

Accord Reached on Setting Up Canal Agreement by 17 Nations

Pakistan Out, Sees Ultimatum

Japan Is Awaiting Egyptian Support

London, Sept. 21 (AP)—Experts of 17 of the world's shipping powers agreed today on the form and timing of an approach to the United Nations to solve the Suez Canal crisis.

They hammered out the accord at a session lasting 2 hours and 20 minutes after putting the final touches to a plan setting up "the Cooperative Assn. of Suez Canal Users" (CASCUS) to protect the rights of the maritime nations in the canal Egypt took over July 26.

Awaits Instructions

Only Pakistan, of the 18 nations in conference here since Wednesday, stayed away from the experts' meeting. The Pakistani delegation, which regards the majority approach as too much like an ultimatum to Egypt, said it could not attend without instructions from Karachi.

However, Japan also came out against the users project as it stands and three other conference nations—Sweden, Denmark and Iran—called instead for an immediate approach to the UN.

Ethiopia's position remained to be announced. Indications were that all the rest of the conference nations, an even dozen, could be counted on to join as soon as their governments at home gave formal approval.

Dulles Highly Pleased

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, described as highly pleased, planned to fly back to Washington tonight.

"He didn't expect so much agreement," an authoritative American source said. "Most if not all the 18 will join the users association. We never expected all 18 would sign on the dotted line."

In Tokyo, Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu told newsmen Japan will not take part in the users plan unless and until it wins Egypt's support. A spokesman for the Japanese shipping industry spokesman was statement. The Kyodo News Service as saying there was no reason for Japan to join since Egypt "has assured Japanese shippers safe and speedy passage."

The experts' meeting ran long overtime, causing a three-hour postponement to 1:30 p. m. (8:30 a. m. EST) of the expected final plenary session of the 18.

Harmonious Session
Sir George Young, British Foreign Office spokesman, said the expert's session was "harmonious and cooperative" and that it drew up two documents: 1. A paper dealing with the formation of the Canal Users Association, some points of which still have to be ironed out by the foreign ministers and other delegation chiefs.

2. A draft resolution, which is understood to include a condemnation of Egypt's nationalization of the canal; a reaffirmation that international control of Suez should be the basis of a final settlement, and an announcement on the form and timing of an approach to the UN.

Agreement to set up the Users Association did not commit any nation actually to join it. But most of the 18—representing more than 90 per cent of the shipping using the Suez Canal—are expected to do so and some conference sources speculated

ABCMakes Six-Month Concession

41 of 57 Counties Have 1 A. M. Hour

Despite recent appeals for modification by the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers' Association the 1 a. m. curfew on the sale of alcoholic beverages will be effective Oct. 1, although it is open for reconsideration after a six months period, The Freeman learned today.

The Ulster County Alcoholic Beverage Control board emphasized, however, it is a firm order and not a trial period but it is willing to listen to further proposals by the tavern owners after the six month period.

Committee Meets Board
It was learned that a committee representing the liquor dealers' association met with the ABC board in a final appeal for a compromise on the law.

The board members—Lawrence M. Jensen and Harry Howard—stood firm on their ruling but made one concession to the committee. They agreed that after a six month period they would be willing to meet with the committee and discuss any further proposals for modification.

Mr. Jensen told The Freeman today he had "no comments" and Mr. Howard said he felt the 1 o'clock closing "will prove satisfactory if it is given a fair trial."

Success in 41 Counties

Mr. Howard said 41 out of 57 counties in New York state are now operating "satisfactorily" on a 1 o'clock curfew.

Robert E. Teetsel, chairman of the liquor dealers' committee, said the board had agreed "to reconsider after six months but we still firmly believe it will have an overall bad economic effect, will create bottle clubs, encourage faster drinking and will not curb juvenile delinquency."

Plan Further Action

He said the committee met Thursday afternoon "to decide what further action will be taken." Other members of the committee are George Broome, association president, Walter Williams, John Pulvrenti, Artie Iakella, Michael Greco and Emilio Jordan.

The board has refused us any compromise on the 1 a. m. closing. Mr. Teetsel said, "but we still feel their decision is a wrong one."

The committee's arguments for modification included the effect of the new curfew on Ulster county's resort business, Mr. Teetsel said.

Woman Suffers Severe Burns As Heater Ignites Bathrobe

A Brooklyn woman, who suffered first and second degree burns Thursday morning when her clothing was ignited by a gas stove in a Greenfield Park hotel, was reported in "fair" condition today at Veterans' Memorial Hospital, Ellenville.

Miss Nettie Nadboy, 20, suffered first and second degree burns about the chest, body, arms and hands, according to hospital authorities.

Ellenville state police said Miss Nadboy, wearing a bathrobe, was apparently standing near a gas stove in the Pioneer Country Club about 10 a. m., when the bathrobe caught fire.

She ran into the hall where a guest wrapped a blanket around her and smothered the flames. Carey's committee is investigating possible discrimination in job allocation on federal projects.

27-Degree Low Hard on Crops

A frosty autumn pushed summer off the calendar a day ahead of time and caused varying degrees of damage to Hudson valley crops.

Fall is scheduled to arrive officially at 9:36 p. m., Saturday, but area farmers walking into their corn fields in a 27-degree temperature early today had evidence it had already arrived.

The frigid low was recorded about sunrise at Brown's Station on the Ashokan Reservoir by the New York City Department of Water Supply.

37 in Kingston
The drop in Kingston was from a high of 60 at 1 p. m., yesterday to this morning's low of 37 at the city engineer's office.

Sweet corn farmers reported some crop loss in their frost-covered acreages and William Palmer, county agriculture agent, said it would take "a couple days" to determine if crops had been seriously affected.

Check at Farms
He said he was scheduled to make a check of area farms today and that "sweet and silage corn and tomatoes are the ones we have to worry about." Mr. Palmer said he did not believe the fruit crops would be too seriously affected by the frost.

New School Closes

The cold snap afforded students at the new Chambers School, Town of Ulster, an extra day off.

Parents of pupils attending the new school on Albany avenue extension said their children were sent home upon arrival at the school this morning. It was reported there was no heat in the building.

Business Banks Told To Encourage Savings

Pratt Boice, president, and Roger H. Loughran, secretary and attorney for the Ulster County Savings Institution attended a meeting of upstate savings bank officials at the Fort Orange Club, Albany, Thursday.

Clarence G. Michalis, president of the State Savings Banks Association, who is also chairman of The Seamen's Bank for Savings in New York city, told the officers at the luncheon meeting that "commercial bankers who are trying to stunt the growth of mutual banks" in New York state are hurting themselves as well as the public.

Michalis said "a small group opposing the opening of savings banks branches in suburban communities ignores the fact that mutual savings banks' promotion of thrift stimulates more people to save money."

"This new savings money, it has been proven repeatedly, is deposited in commercial banks and savings and loan associations as well," he said.

Michalis cited statistics which he said proved savings banks stimulate people to save more.

The Rev. Archibald Carey Jr., Chicago alderman, said that as a result "the status of the American Negro today is higher than ever before in the history of the United States."

The 48-year-old minister who was an alternate delegate to the United Nations in 1953 addressed a Negro audience of about 1,200.

He called the Republican party the driving force behind racial integration moves in the nation's public schools and armed forces, and added:

"While the Democrats were talking about it, Eisenhower did it."

PICKET LINE TROUBLE—Pickets at Chicago plant of Swift & Co., nation's largest meat packer, create trouble for police as they prevent arrest of one of their men. There were sporadic arrests at the sprawling stockyards as the two unions involved in the strike threw up picket lines and halted employees of other packers at 14 entrances for gate identification checks. Iowa Farmers Display Liking for Eisenhower

Boone, Iowa, Sept. 21 (AP)—At the crossroads in Iowa, where the farmers park their shiny cars in long lines down the side roads, they seem to like President Eisenhower.

This is the corn hog farm belt, where Democratic politicians have been saying there is a revolt against the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support policies.

No Sign of Revolt

Maybe so, but if these farmers are in revolt they have a peculiar way of showing it.

They turned out by the thousands yesterday to wave and smile and exclaim over Ike and Mamie as they drove 60 miles from Des Moines to this birthplace of Mrs. Eisenhower.

Perhaps these were the accolades reserved for a President of the United States. Certainly, the school children were out in force and high school bands blared discordantly.

Cheers, Smiles
But at a dozen cross-roads between the big city of Des Moines and this small but proud city of 12,000 souls there were cheering, smiling farm men and farm women. If the men were sometimes indifferent to the passage down the concrete highway of a presidential candidate, the women were not.

Almost without fail they turned to each other in squealing delight after the presidential car, with its open sky dome had passed, to exclaim "Oh, he waved at me."

President Pleased
Eisenhower, getting into the swing of campaigning, showed a definite taste for it. If there was a hand to shake, he shook it at the airport or on the lawn of his wife's old family home here.

"Union members have demonstrated their desire to assume their obligations as citizens and good neighbors by working with and for the many voluntary services. Both nationally and locally they endorse federated appeals such as the Community Chest as a means for raising funds to carry on these services without the duplication, waste and annoyance of repeated individual drives."

Trailer With $40,000 Load Of Cosmetics Burns on Road

A trailer, owned by the Master Freight Co., of Kearney, N. J., which contained $40,000 worth of cosmetics, was destroyed by fire early today near the Kingston interchange of the Thruway.

Chief Winfred Synder of the Hurley Fire Department said the driver, whose name was not available, told him the fire started from a flat tire.

The driver said "he felt the tire and it wasn't hot," according to Chief Snyder, then climbed into the cab of the tractor, which was disengaged from the trailer, and fell asleep while awaiting help to fix the tire.

Two men awoke him a short

TRIUMPHS OVER INJURIES—Robert Edward Keefe, 18-months-old survivor of a tragic highway accident at Ashokan last month, was the center of interest in the children's ward, Kingston Hospital, just before he left there this morning for a plane trip to Pittsburgh, Pa. Young Accident Victim Leaves Hospital Today

"Bobby is going home," they were saying at Kingston Hospital this morning, and the words, wherever they were heard, seemed to convey interminglings of triumph and a sense of loss.

They were referring to Robert Edward Keefe, 18-months-old survivor of a highway tragedy which last month at Ashokan took the lives of his father, grandmother, a two-months-old sister, and the driver of the other car involved.

Favorite With All
The sense of triumph today grew of the fact that Bobby was in grave condition when he arrived at the hospital last Aug.

Shapiro Reports On Murder Data

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—State Investigation Commissioner J. Irwin Shapiro says he has turned over "important" information to the Westchester county district attorney concerning the unsolved murder of union leader John Acropolis.

Shapiro said in a statement yesterday the information involved Acropolis, found fatally shot in his Yonkers, home on Aug. 27, 1952. Acropolis was president of Local 456 of the Teamsters Union and president of the Westchester County Federation of Labor.

Acropolis asserted had been involved in a jurisdictional dispute with other unions in the area.

Neither Shapiro nor Westchester Dist. Atty. Joseph F. Gagliardi would comment on the material submitted.

Shapiro also said he turned over testimony to the office of U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams and to the FBI "which may be helpful to them in an investigation which they are conducting."

Shapiro refused to comment on reports this material was related to the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. Several persons have been indicted in the Riesel case.

Consolidation Committee Names Permanent Officers

Representatives of 30 rural school districts attended a meeting of the Greater Kingston Consolidation Committee at the Court House Thursday evening and elected permanent officers and appointed committees.

Permanent officers elected include Roy Feddes, of Ulster District No. 3, chairman; Floyd Ellsworth, of Esopus District No. 1, vice chairman; and Doris Ennis, of Rosendale District No. 3, secretary.

Another meeting is scheduled Tuesday, Sept. 25, at 7:45 p. m. at the Court House.

A question and answer period on consolidation followed the appointment of committees. Questions were answered by Earl Soper, superintendent of Kingston city schools, and Clarence Johnson, superintendent of the first supervisory district.

The following committees were appointed:

Chevrolet Acquires 82 Acres for Depot

Detroit, Sept. 21 (AP)—Acquisition of an 82-acre site northeast of Atlanta, Ga., for a new 280,000 square foot major supply depot was announced today by

Chevrolet motor division. Construction work on the single story warehouse, which will require about a year, will start late this year. The depot will serve about 675 Chevrolet auto and truck dealers in North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Florida, about 665 other GM auto dealers as well. The site was purchased from the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly division of General Motors, which operates an auto assembly plant adjacent to the supply depot site.

Difficult to Get Attorneys to Act As Peace Justices

Lake Placid, Sept. 21 (AP)—An administration official says that in many sections of the state it is difficult, if not impossible, to recruit attorneys to serve as peace justices.

Daniel Gutman, Gov. Harri-man's counsel, made the comment in a speech before the New York State Magistrates Assn. last night when he praised the magistrates' efforts to train justices of the peace.

Laymen must continue to serve, he said, but this "does not preclude the need for making certain that any man who serves in a judicial capacity, high or low, must be qualified and fitted by experience, by temperament, by understanding, and by character."

Gutman also urged "prompt and effective treatment" to cut the crowded calendars in New York city courts where, he said, there are delays of as much as four and five years.

The governor's counsel warned, however, that "proposals for joining the courts where felony cases are tried with the Supreme Court; and the magistrates and Special Sessions Courts with the City Court and Municipal Court, will result in a confusing, top heavy and costly arrangement."

About 200 magistrates attended the three-day meeting, which ends today.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 21, 1956

THE CONSTITUTION

Constitution Week is coming to a close and it is hoped that through its observance, which is sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution, we will have a greater awareness of its principles.

Mayor Stang in proclaiming Constitution Week urged all citizens to pay homage and respect to our constitutional rights and privileges and the advantages of American citizenship.

If we respect our constitution, we will be prepared not only during this week but every week of the year to support it and be ready to accept the responsibilities that go with it.

One way of showing this respect and also helping to preserve our constitution is by going to the polls on Election Day and casting your vote.

The rights, such as freedom of speech, worship and assembly and trial by jury are familiar to all of us. But do we appreciate these liberties?

More than 35,000,000 Americans did not go to the polls in 1952. This shows a definite lack of understanding, which is essential to its successful operation.

Let's show the world we are grateful for our American citizenship by going to the polls in this important presidential election.

LITTERBUG ORDINANCE

Kingston has joined the ranks of many communities throughout the United States in adopting an ordinance prohibiting litter on public streets and grounds. Any person violating the local law shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $25 or more than $50 for each and every offense.

We have had campaigns designed for the purpose of preventing litter but it worked only for a brief time. Now if these litterbugs are fined, they will soon desist this slovenly practice.

There appears to be three main causes for the clutter on our streets. First, it is the individual who plays the paramount role. His daily, thoughtless and careless acts are in evidence everywhere. Litterbugs have no feeling of guilt when tossing litter anywhere. Secondly, it is the outright negligence on the part of storekeepers and householders in putting out rubbish in containers with inadequate covers or no lids at all. Thirdly, it is the careless collecting and trucking of waste material over the streets of the city.

REVOLUTION IN DIET

Though a lot of people don't realize it, the United States is in the midst of a revolution. Only this is not a political revolution, but a radical change in our eating habits. What is more, the revolution is likely to become more radical as it goes along.

Basically, the change is that we are eating less of such foodstuffs as bread and potatoes, but more of the fancier things such as fruits and vegetables, eggs, dairy products, fowl and beef. The trend also is moving strongly toward foods that are processed in factories rather than in the family kitchen. More and more items come so thoroughly prepared that they are all but heated for the table.

Department of Agriculture experts expect these trends to continue. They also anticipate, however, that the result of present research on nutrition may alter eating habits again. It may be, for example, that more cereals and potatoes will be recommended to provide the balanced diet needed for best health. Americans, being a mighty diet-conscious people these days, doubtless would respond quickly to such recommendations.

All this points up an interesting thing about the United States. In most parts of the world, the main food problem is to get enough. In this country the big problem for most of the population is not quantity but kind and quality. For perhaps the first time in history, here is a big population that can afford to be finicky about what it eats. That is a curious but significant measure of our prosperity.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE MOST DISLIKED MAN?

Being Secretary of State of the United States has been a tough job ever since the end of World War II. Dean Acheson was regarded practically as either a Russian or a British agent, depending upon whether the description came from an anti-Communist or an anti-Britisher. John Foster Dulles was recently described by a writer called Joachim Joesten in the following language:

"We must abandon our Dutch uncle attitude, which is so well personified by Dulles. I have no doubt that he is a man of good intentions, but I tell you that there is no statesman in the world so disliked as Dulles."

I do not know what Joesten's qualifications are, but every man is entitled to his opinion as long as he avoids libel, slander or pornography. Therefore anybody can kick around the Secretary of State whether he knows what the facts are or not. Joesten also said:

"Just as the freedom not to have any religion is an intrinsic part of the freedom of religion, the freedom to be neutral is an inherent part of democratic freedom."

This makes me wonder precisely what is meant by "democratic freedom." Does it mean the right of a nation to take $1,000,000,000 of the American taxpayers' money and then turn upon the United States as an imperialistic country seeking to dominate the world?

John Foster Dulles became Secretary of State at a very difficult time. The United States had, through the Marshall Plan, European Military Aid, NATO and other devices helped to restore the economies of many nations, so that they no longer regarded themselves as altogether dependent upon this country, although they desired the aid to continue. Soviet Russia had embarked upon the imperialistic phase of the Cold War, stimulating fear throughout the world, a fear that led to an increased rise of neutralism in Europe, Asia, and Africa. It also encouraged the emergence of the Moslem world, culminating in the rise of Nasser not only as the dictator of Egypt but as the leader of the Arab nations.

The role of any Secretary of State would have been a difficult one in these circumstances, but during the Eisenhower Administration it was particularly hard because in Great Britain, Winston Churchill gave way to Anthony Eden; in Soviet Russia, Stalin died and the new soft policies of Khrushchev required not only a reorientation of thinking about Soviet Russia but a preparation for the most unexpected conduct in many parts of the world. In addition, Dulles was faced by the unmistakable pacifism of his chief, President Eisenhower, whose decision it clearly has been that no war should occur while he is in the White House. This produced many complications as some nations only behave out of fear for consequences of war.

One of the most serious problems for which the Secretary of State has usually been responsible since World War I was disarmament, but President Eisenhower delegated that task to Harold Stassen. As the heart of American relations with Soviet Russia and Red China has much to do with disarmament, particularly the problems arising out of the atomic and hydrogen bombs, the Secretary of State found himself in an awkward position.

Nevertheless, John Foster Dulles has managed to do his job, largely by travelling about the world, attending an enormous number of conferences, establishing personal relations with the policy officials of other countries.

There has not been a day since 1945 that the world has not been on the brink of war. Such an explosion could occur any moment over the Suez Canal question. First came the Bandung Conference in 1955 and then the meeting of Nehru and Nasser with Tito last July. What really occurred at that session, we do not know, but great events followed which increased the difficulties of any Western foreign minister.

It is very easy for those on the sidelines to say that Nasser is all wrong, but for the man whose job it is to prevent World War III from breaking out, Nasser presents many problems, not the least of which is the fact that Western Europe can be left without oil and that the United States would have to bear the brunt of this loss without the means to do it unless our economy is to be upset. Taken all-in-all, John Foster Dulles has done an amazingly good job under the most difficult circumstances.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
PREVENTION OF CHRONIC DISEASE

We have been considering the treatment of chronic disease during the last few days. Let us now consider what can be done in the line of prevention of chronic illness because, as with any disease problem, the ultimate hope for control lies in prevention. Until the past few years the medical profession has taken a rather dim view of the possibility of preventing much chronic disease. However, the National Conference on Chronic Disease: Preventive Aspects, in 1951, provided a rallying point for a new attack on the problem. Out of this conference came the idea that the prevention of chronic disease includes two phases, primary and secondary. Primary prevention means to avoid the occurrence of the disease entirely, and secondary prevention means to halt or delay the progression of disease into disability and premature death through early detection and adequate treatment.

Let us look at some examples of primary prevention of heart disease, for instance. Primary prevention of heart disease is a reality, particularly as a result of understanding the infectious origins of some forms of heart disease. Defects of the heart and great vessels, as well as other organs, are caused in part at least by German measles during the first few months of pregnancy. Cases of heart disease following diphtheria and syphilis, fairly common a few years ago, are becoming rare as a result of effective means for the control of these infections.

Rheumatic heart disease is declining rapidly with the widespread attack on streptococcal infections, such as "strep throat," through the use of penicillin. Rheumatic fever is a disease likely to occur in any member of a family where the disease has once appeared, unless streptococcal infection is rigorously controlled. Hence the primary prevention of rheumatic heart disease requires regular doses of penicillin for the child with the disease and prompt treatment of any such infection whenever it occurs in brothers and sisters. Present knowledge, if effectively applied, should lead to the practical stoppage of new cases in a few years. The occurrence of diphtheria or smallpox in an American community today produces a sense of shame in the health officer and other physicians. How soon will the same be true of rheumatic fever?

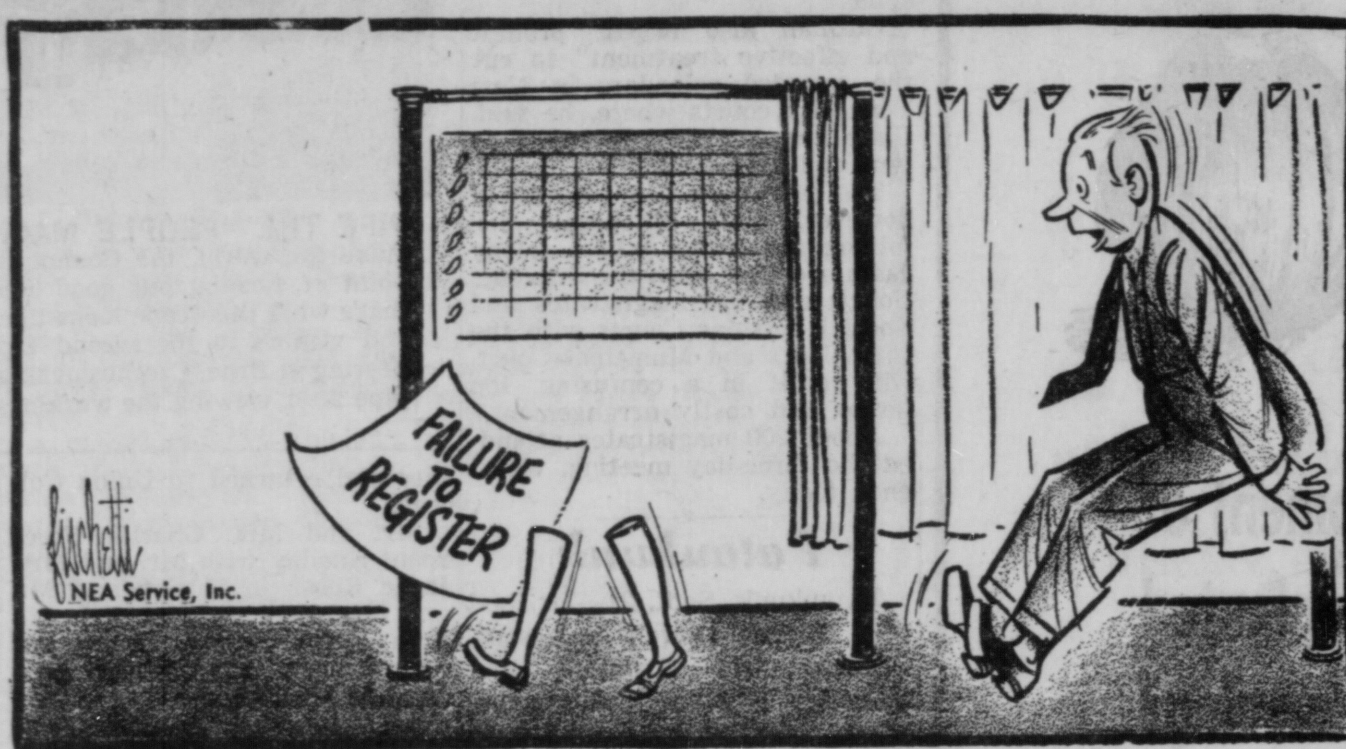

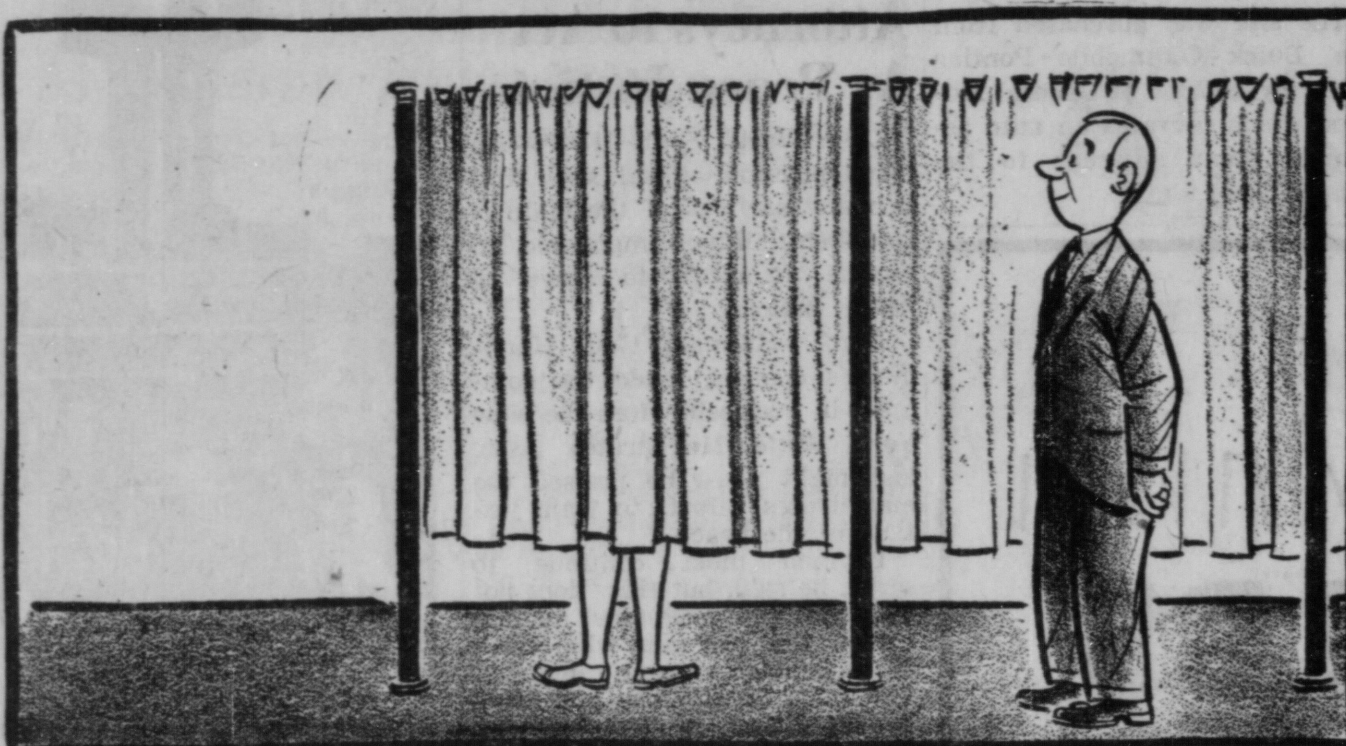

Control of overweight, now our nation's principal nutritional fault, would contribute to a reduction in not only heart disease due to high blood pressure but also diabetes and other chronic diseases. As a people we have upset nature's balance between food intake and energy output hence we need to stress the maintaining of ideal weight from childhood on. For patients with long-standing overweight, the physician may find his own efforts strengthened by referring patients to weight-reduction groups that are springing up in many communities. These groups appear to offer overweight patients some of the same benefit that alcoholic patients obtain from Alcoholics Anonymous.

Next to heart and blood vessel disease, cancer causes the greatest mortality in the United States and Canada today. It is still a great mystery but we are beginning to find that some of the most important forms of cancer are due to our surroundings.

This One Doesn't Count

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Los Angeles, Sept. 20.—The trustees of the University of Illinois recently picked a 200-acre tract of prairie about 11 miles west of the Loop for a Chicago branch of their incongruous institution at Champaign. Thus they unwittingly performed the public service of clamping in stocks the campus concept of American houses of higher learning. The old university in '55 had 25,200 campus undergrads and post-grads and 4,676 teachers of all grades. The curriculum ranges from science down to a post-kindergarten branch.

Champaign is overcrowded and few students know more than a few others. The Chicago branch is a continuation of an emergency outpost created to absorb GI trade after the war. Few of the persons who would enroll at U of I, Chicago, would live within convenient distance and the vision of another colony of Halls with a bigger and better and brand new old main is plainly only a sentimental souvenir of a beloved day that is gone.

The purpose of a school is to try to educate its clients. The degree of the utility of this design need not be discussed. A large proportion of the subjects come to school doused in repellent and in many other cases, education does no good. Prof. J. Robert Oppenheimer proved beyond question that some double-domes get so learned that they can't tell right from wrong or truth from falsehood. And Alger Hiss, whose precocious charm endeared him to Felix Frankfurter and Eleanor Roosevelt, was so stupid that Robert Stripling, a Texas string-town high school boy, pegged him for a liar the instant that he swore to tell the truth. The way he reiterated "so help me God" and the tremulous timbre of his voice betrayed him to an honest man.

Nevertheless, education is the thing. A motorman pulling levers on mechanical monsters in the present creation of the new world might be at a loss for Latin niceties but highly competent in the awesome practical duties of his place in the dawn of order. And he doesn't have to spend one year in Coventry, wearing a silly beanie, or live in a frat house to make the grade that he picks out to make. He can get along in a flop if it comes to that, but he and two or more others of serious bent and tidy character might lease a flat in a marginal neighborhood and reduce their problems of eating, sleeping and hygiene to absolute simplicity.

Education is no more jumbled than other phases of our life, our method of nominating presidents is so dangerous to the ideal of popular government that we well may fear blood in the gutters. Religious freedom consists of a total taboo on debate except in cloisters where dissent is heresy. To damn communism is every patriot's bounden duty, but the individual Red is immune to scorn and honored above those who expose him. The great American metropolis gasp and thresh in spasms of social disorder because they outgrow their ability to manage themselves.

Be it hoped that some few ivied institutions will survive as souvenirs on the national what-not, but we are repudiating the protracted adolescence of the past in favor of the least possible encumbrance of nonsense. That is to the good and the worst hypocrisy which should be discarded first is intercollegiate football.

The current spectacle of lies, intellectual fraud and uproar in the Pacific Coast Conference should be exploited for eventual reform. The ideal would be obliteration of this morally offensive nuisance.

The game, itself, is stupid enough to invite extinction, but here we have a degrading wrangle in which subsidized gladiators with no personal attachment to their schools are whining because they were caught cheating in childish conspiracies. Morton Moss of the Los Angeles Examiner writes frankly that this repulsive business has provoked "deep, uncontrollable hatreds and suspicions." "College football," he concludes, "traditionally supposed to develop character, good sportsmanship and other idealistic virtues, has bankrupted itself of even the pretense of these accomplishments along the Pacific."

He could have taken in much more territory. The game long ago ceased to be a sport and the armored, faceless brutes, all strangers to the studios thousands whom they pretend to represent, are living on borrowed time.

Wrong Report

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—Two small girls learned the hard way that the first duty of a reporter is to be reliable. The youngsters, 9 and 10 years old, had some spare time and access to a duplicating machine. So they turned out 60 copies of a "newspaper" carrying the tidings that a hurricane would strike the next day at noon. Then they distributed the paper with the fake story, creating a good deal of alarm. An "editorial conference" with their parents followed.

Sir Winston Churchill retired as England's prime minister in April, 1955.

President's Opening Message Of Campaign Has Low Rating

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 21.—From the standpoint of political effectiveness, President Eisenhower's first address of the campaign must be given a low "rating."

The address was over the heads of the audience. It attempted to cover too much ground and didn't explain any one point adequately. It was written for the eye and not for the ear. It dealt with generalities and did not deal with the consequences to the voters.

Time Was Noted

There are so many millions of persons who like President Eisenhower personally and who have faith in his integrity, his earnestness and his devotion to duty that it seems regrettable that twenty-five minutes of valuable TV time should have been taken up with so many abstract sentences. These were difficult for many listeners to grasp and the President failed to ask pointedly for support of the Republican ticket at the polls.

Except for a brief reference at the start to his "Republican associates," there was not a word in it emphasizing the fact that the President is running on the Republican ticket, that he wants the people to vote for the Republican party this November, and that there are good reasons why the Democratic party should not be returned to power.

Maybe later on it is intended to do all this, and perhaps through other speakers. But anybody who utters a lot of generalities about his product to a prospective customer and leaves without once asking for the order has a lot to learn about the psychology of making a sale.

As for the vocabulary used, the speech was unfortunately directed to a group theoretically equipped with a better background on public affairs than the average listener possesses. How many persons in the audience, for example, understood the meaning of the word "unilateral"? How many persons knew the background of the controversy over atomic tests in which the President used the term and which he didn't explain? His implicit references in answer to the viewpoint on this topic expressed by the Democratic nominee were too vague to be effective.

Widespread publicity for a speech transmitted by a lot of stations or printed in many newspapers does not necessarily insure widespread listening or reading. There have been cases in political history where all the news reporting and editorials in the press were opposed to a certain candidate but this didn't defeat him. There's the famous case, for instance, of Mayor Hylan of New York, who went through a couple of campaigns without the support of a single newspaper, but he had Tammany Hall's organization behind him, and he won anyhow.

Why do such things happen? It is because the speechmakers in those campaigns usually do not get down to brass tacks and explain the issues, whereas the organization by word of mouth does explain fully and simply the reasons why the voters should support its candidate.

Must Simplify Issues

Mr. Eisenhower by the style of campaigning he apparently has adopted cannot win enough votes to overcome the organizational work that will be done against him, particularly in the large cities. His only tactic, therefore, is to simplify the issues, center on a few and not try to "cover the waterfront" in every speech. His Wednesday night address also violated some of the fundamental rules of political combat. One good rule is never to fall into the trap of spending your time just defending yourself against the other fellow's arguments. For that means your opponent has the initiative.

A case in point is the issue developing out of Stevenson's call for an ending of the draft. Stevenson was politically clever in raising the issue. It's elemental. It means a great deal to millions of voters, particularly mothers. But the President tried to answer it only by saying it isn't practicable to end the draft now. Stevenson gained on this exchange because many uninformed voters will think he is really for ending the draft while Ike isn't—and that this is all there is to it.

Should Take Offensive

The logical way to handle such a situation is not to go on the defensive but to take the offensive. Ike should have pointed out how dangerous his opponent's views seemed to be and how military weakness could actually invite war. He should have stressed that ending the draft now could mean that, if war came, many millions of boys would have to be sacrificed on the battlefield because they wouldn't be trained to fight. Death in war is more to be dreaded than a peace-time draft.

Likewise, instead of talking about a "unilateral" ending of atom-bomb tests, Mr. Eisenhower had a chance to ask the American people if they wanted to stop developing new weapons—all weapons—while letting the enemy develop them and destroy us. By the time the argument was concluded, the listener should have been properly worried about the great risk involved in putting into the White House some one whose policies would cut down the man power of the armed services at the same time that he favored a one-sided abandonment of experiments with the most powerful weapons needed to match the enemy if war comes.

Clear Explanations

Mr. Eisenhower has some good speechwriters who can write for the ear as well as the eye. And it isn't necessary to call names or to take "the low road" when going on the attack. But it is necessary to simplify and to explain clearly what the score is in words that a relatively uninformed audience across the country can understand. The voters aren't moved by lectures on international affairs, with references to remote areas which they can't even locate on the map. They are interested in the direct consequences to them and their families if there is a change in the White House.

Attic Adventure

Fairview, Mont. (AP)—You find vacation adventure in unexpected places. James Hutch, 16, lives in an apartment in Los Angeles and never had seen an attic. He was curious about the attic at the nearby Neotom Farm Home in McKenzie County, North Dakota where he and his parents were visiting. So Paula Neotom, 15, took him on a tour. From the attic, guest and hostess promptly clambered through a window to the roof of the farmhouse—and just as promptly tumbled to the ground. James is recovering from fracture of a bone in one shoulder. Paula escaped with an outsized bruise.

Change of Heart

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Two automobile hubcaps were received in the mail by police with an unsigned note which said in part: "If you can't get the hubcaps back to the owner auction them off and give the money to the poor." The sender paid 36 cents postage to mail the package to police.

Questions -- Answers

Q—When does the United States expect to launch its "artificial satellite"?

A—Some time between July, 1957, and December, 1958.

Q—Did Babe Ruth play in every Yankee game in 1927, when he set the home run record?

A—No. He missed three of the team's 154 games.

Q—Did the Russians ever settle in the United States?

A—Yes. In the 1840's, there were several Russian settlements in California. Financial difficulties led to their abandonment.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

Washington — (NEA) — The much-touted 300 million dollar "sale" of U. S. agricultural commodities to India, in final analysis, may turn out to be another well-meant device that ends up by losing the taxpayers' money. Some 55 million dollars of the "purchase price" will be given to India outright as thinly disguised foreign aid.

Announcement of this agreement in Washington and New Delhi billed it as the biggest deal ever negotiated for disposal of U. S. farm surpluses.

This is true, although only about 30 per cent of the wheat India gets will come from government surpluses. The other 70 per cent will be new wheat, purchased on the open market.

IF ALL THE commodities going to India under this deal came from U. S. Commodity Credit Corporation holdings, their cost to the government would be reckoned at from 500 to 600 million dollars.

Sold for 300 million dollars, this would represent a 40 to 50 per cent loss, which is quite a discount.

of the stuff.

The sale is not for dollars, but for Indian rupees.

Approximately 235 million dollars worth of rupees will be immediately loaned to India at still undisclosed terms. Some 55 million dollars of this must be used to aid small, private business in India's socialist economy.

Another 55 million dollars' worth of rupees, more or less, may be used to pay the expenses of U. S. diplomatic and technical missions in India, or to buy strategic materials like magnesium for U. S. stockpiles.

THE DEAL has two principal points in its favor. It gets rid of sizable quantities of U. S. farm surpluses, which cost money to store. In the case of the new wheat going into the deal, it will prevent this grain from moving into surplus stocks which would cost still more money to store.

Secondly, India needs the foods and fibers she is getting to raise the living standard of her people. Also, India needs the economic aid she will get from plowing the rupee purchase price back into her own economy. So a humanitarian end is served.

to the bone. It would appear that as a subsidy aid for the American farmer, it is expected to be more palatable.

ALL OF THE cotton, rice, tobacco and dairy products included will come from government surpluses except the wheat. Under a new policy effective Sept. 4, CCC stocks of wheat are not released for direct export sales. They may be used only for "payments in kind."

Under this policy, the cost of the wheat going into the deal and the resulting loss may be reduced by about 100 million dollars. It would work like this: Say an Indian buyer contracts with a U. S. exporter for a million bushels of wheat. The U. S. export subsidy on international wheat agreement sales is 70 cents a bushel.

A 70 cent subsidy on a million bushels would be $700,000. This would buy approximately 300,000 bushels of wheat at the current U. S. market price of $2.35 a bushel at port.

So the exporter would get 300,000 bushels of U. S. CCC surplus wheat free, as payment in kind for his export subsidy. He is required by law to export this grain. The other 700,000 bushels he would buy on the open market to fulfill his contract.

125 More Field Engineers Are Graduated by IBM

International Business Machines Corporation graduated 125 more field engineers for the maintenance of the country's expanding defense system Wednesday. The graduation luncheon for the men and their guests at the IBM Poughkeepsie Country Club marked the end of the first year of the company's Kingston Field Engineering education program.

In September 1955, the first field engineering class began. Since then 300 men have completed the course designed to teach maintenance engineering for the SAGE network of computers.

The most recent group of graduates, the largest thus far, is destined for computer site three at Syracuse and the original pilot operation, called XD-1, at Lexington, Mass. They have received special training in the input-output, display or systems aspects of the complex computer.

Charles F. McElwain, Military Products Division general manager, spoke to the men of the responsibilities in assignment to support of the military in the necessary job of defense. He pictured the modern, automated world as an era with decreasing drudgery and increasing maintenance engineering opportunities.

Kingston MPD General Manager Robert P. Crago talked of the division's goal of doubled production in four years and emphasized the importance of reliability in defense engineering.

Ralph C. Sampson, manager of Kingston MPD field engineering, outlined plans for coordination between the field men and the manufacturing and engineering personnel in Kingston. He encouraged the new graduates to accept the challenge of technological progress and IBM's rapid growth.

Raymond J. Bernardi, who was chosen to represent the students, pointed out the field engineers' opportunities to work as a team for secure jobs, families and communities.

Master of ceremonies at the luncheon was Kenneth B. Robinson, manager of field engineering education.

August Savings Bond Sales Total $403 Millions

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21—August sales of $403 million of series E and H Savings Bonds brought the eight-month total for this year to $3,589 million, the Treasury announced today.

The eight-month sales figure through August 31 was four per cent under the same period of 1955, but otherwise was the best for any year since 1945. Last year's sales for August were $439 million, and last year's eight-month total reached $3,730 million.

E Bond Sales Higher

Sales of E bonds through August of this year were slightly ahead of the corresponding period of 1955—$2,892 million as compared with $2,864 million.

Series E and H bond redemptions through the first eight months of this year totaled $3,282 million, leaving a net sales over redemptions of $307 million. This compared with $371 million net for the same period last year.

Dollar volume (including accrued interest) of all E and H bonds now held by Americans increased during the month by $73 million to a new all-time high of $41,126 million. Of this amount, $37,962 million is in E bonds and $3,164 million in H's.

Of the $21.4 billion in E bonds that have reached their maturity date since May 1951, two-thirds are still being held by owners to draw additional interest under the Treasury's automatic extension option.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 21—If I have any real hobby, it is the study of the human brain. In fact if I were to live my life again, I should devote myself to the development and harnessing of the human brain.

Any school superintendent who insisted that first-grade children should be taught psychology would probably be called "crazy." On the other hand, I believe if he did not use this long word, but merely began in the early grades to teach the child about his own brain, he would be praised. After 12 years spent in the Gloucester public schools, and four years in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, I had never heard of psychology. Yet it seems only common sense to begin education by teaching a child about his own brain, with which he will learn everything in the years to follow.

The Child's Brains

As so many children are starting their first formal education this month, I urge that their interest be aroused in the wonderful machine which every one of them has in his head. It makes me cross to see the attention which is given by the press to the new electronic computers, while so little space is devoted to the human brain. In fact, Mr. Thomas J. Watson, late President of International Business Machines until his death a few weeks ago, once said to me, "If one of my machines is worth a half million dollars, the brain which every child has is worth ten million dollars!"

Every child who has entered school this month has in his head the equivalent of three pounds of mental switchboards. These are connected by the equivalent of telephone wires to every part of the body. Whenever we touch anything, see anything, hear anything, smell any odor, a telephone message is immediately sent to our brain. There it is automatically directed to one of these switchboards, which in turn makes a permanent impression upon some part of the brain similar to the small circular impressions on a long-playing phonograph record.

There are many such "switchboards" with millions of plugs. The chief switchboards are the following twelve: Desire, Instinct, Memory, Industry, Common Sense, Expediency, Reason, Inspiration, Imagination, Religious Faith, Hope, Love. These last three are the most important for the good of mankind. But from a business point of view, perhaps industry, common sense, inspiration and imagination will give school graduates the best salaries and job opportunities. In my business I am especially interested in getting people with keen imagination, who can correctly see into the future. I believe the great opportunities lie with those who have cultivated this power.

How Our Brains Work

Each child possesses hundreds of thousands of living cells. Some are pressure-sensing cells; others are seeing, tasting, and smelling cells. All of these have "private telephone" lines to the brain, which automatically transmit messages by the "dial system" to the right switchboard, which in turn makes the permanent record.

I believe that children could become tremendously interested in their brains, and that this interest could add a hundred percent to their educational results. Children are always interested in animals. When it is shown them that moths have smelling powers to find their mates several miles away; that the instinct switchboard in the heads of dogs enables them to find their way home and hunt out criminals; and that the robin on the lawn has far better eyesight than we have, children will wake up to their own precious possibilities.

Children should be taught that in their heads they carry a telephone system with more private lines than the telephone systems of our largest cities. Getting children to use more of these thousands of private lines and dormant switchboards will make for healthy, happy, and prosperous lives.

The real task facing our schools is not to develop more knowledge but rather more reason, self-control and imagination. The ability to solve problems which have never yet been solved and to see more correctly into the future should be our real goals. I especially appeal for work with children because children can learn more in the first 12 years than they will be able to in the next 40. My closing thought would be to impress upon these children the great importance of the switchboard entitled religion, with its sub-switchboards of Faith, Hope and Love.

It's smart and thrifty to trade... while there's still a good selection of NEW Fords at today's low, low prices!

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS...

give you a great deal more for your money!

As you know, Ford's initial costs are low. And during September Ford Dealers are offering trucks at surprisingly low prices. See for yourself how little it actually costs to buy a new Ford truck.

And your savings won't stop with the purchase price. Ford's operating costs are rock-bottom low, too! That's because Ford pioneered low-friction Short Stroke engines are designed for low gas and oil costs and less costly repairs. Only Ford gives you Short Stroke design in every truck, in every engine... V-8 or Six. Ford's rugged chassis means sure-fire dependability, and the proven fact that Ford trucks last longer means your truck will be worth more at trade-in time.

For lower truck costs all around, take a tip from America's biggest truck users—the men who keep the most accurate truck cost records—the big fleets buy more Ford trucks than any other make.

Trade NOW and SAVE—

1. Prices are low—rising steel prices have not raised truck prices, yet. Ford trucks at today's low, low prices are the value of the year!
2. Really big trade-in allowances—we're glad to trade... and are giving high, generous allowances for any make or model truck you may have.
3. Outstanding truck selection—Ford builds over 300 truck models from pickups to Big Jobs. Choose from our big selection. You'll find just the right truck for your particular needs.
4. Save on operating costs—Ford's low-friction Short Stroke power and rugged chassis are designed for real gas and oil economy, and to reduce downtime.

Greed Causes Bidder's Fall

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
South began today's hand with nine tricks and wound up with only eight. Greed was the cause of his downfall.

West opened the queen of hearts, and South held off. He should have won in the dummy in order to take the diamond finesse at once.

West continued with the jack of hearts, and South won with the king. He should have led the ace and then the nine of diamonds to assure the contract, but he led a club to dummy to return the queen of diamonds. West refused the first diamond, from dummy. East discarded a heart, and South went up with the ace of diamonds and returned another diamond. West took the king of diamonds, and East discarded another heart.

West could now see that South had no hearts and could not reach the dummy to cash the diamonds unless the queen of spades was an entry. Counting on his partner to have a high spade, West abandoned the hearts. Instead, he led the queen of clubs.

South held off, and West shifted to the ten of spades. South won with the jack of spades and cashed the ace of South could take the nine of clubs, but he then had to give two spade tricks to East. This was one trick more than he could afford.

Power Agreement Pleases Javits

Potsdam, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits says he likes the new agreement over development of Niagara river power, which he says is similar to the settlement over the St. Lawrence river power project.

"In both instances," he said yesterday, "there is to be the partnership of private interests and public interests for the welfare of the people."

In a speech before a Republican women's gathering, Javits also said that if he is elected to the U. S. Senate he will fight for additional appropriations needed to complete the seaway project as soon as possible.

LET'S BLOW THE WHISTLE!

Uncle Sam owns or rents 385,000 buildings, scattered all over our country, with 2,196,320,062 square feet of floor space, which amounts to 50,420 acres.

It's not enough, the Government boys tell us, so they hoist the green light for more.

MR. HUTTON

I'm sore as a bull pup with a wart under his tail. The busy bureaucratic beavers are fixing to spend 2,000,000,000 $'s on more new buildings.

Congress says: Go ahead, and do a face-lifting job on the Capitol in Washington; and close by we will spend an additional 119,000,000 $'s for more space for us, Senate and House members (plus remodeling the three big office buildings they now have). But they can't cut taxes! Oh, no!

Read on—and weep. Uncle Sam's little nephews plan to add 4,000 more buildings, from small post offices to the big 56,000,000 $ "Little Pentagon" to house the Central Intelligence Agency in a luxurious hangout in the surroundings of a Virginia countryside.

Neighbors, you are all taxpayers! It's your dough. Isn't it time to tell your Congressman to hang out the red light—STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN? Why not TELL him so. He's not buying your groceries. You're buying his.

It's all an inflationary boom in marble, stone, cement, brick, steel and furnishings,—including another nick in your take-home pay.

Neighbor, tell your Senator and Congressman to blow the whistle before he takes your shirt!

Javits said the long controversy over public versus private development of Niagara river power potential "appears to be settled" by the agreement announced Wednesday between the State Power Authority and the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.

Javits Opinion Backs Monaghan

Albany, Sept. 21 (AP)—A formal opinion issued by Atty. Gen. Jacob J. Javits says the State's Harness Racing Commissioner, not the U. S. Trotting Assn., has final jurisdiction over harness racing officials in this state.

At the request of the Commissioner George P. Monaghan, Javits asserted yesterday that: 1. The commission may prohibit racing judges and other officials and employees of the commission from testifying at hearings of the USTA or any other private organization.

2. A judge or other official could continue to serve, even if his USTA membership was suspended or his USTA license revoked for refusing to appear at an association hearing.

Javits' opinion apparently scored a point for Monaghan in his running feud with the USTA, which has charged publicly that Monaghan is "generally incompetent" and that "he has been lax in the performance of his obligations as commissioner." Gov. Harriman is investigating the dispute.

The USTA also has refused to recognize some penalties imposed by Harness Commission judges on harness drivers.

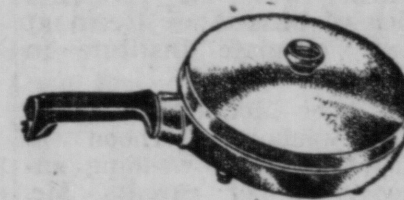

Monaghan contends the USTA is trying to usurp the commission's power.

Canadian Police Arrest Man Who Led Local Chase

A youth who led area troopers in a wild chase Tuesday in the Newburgh area has been apprehended by Royal Canadian Mounted Police near Ormstown, Quebec.

He has been identified as Marcel Desormeaux, 17, of Montreal, Canada.

He was arrested by Canadian Mounties Wednesday after a 15-mile chase which terminated when the youth, an escapee from Boserville Detention Home, Montreal, drove up a dead-end road into Chateaugay river.

State police reported that the youth, who was serving two years for car theft and other burglaries, had a long juvenile record.

Eluded Pursuers

He jumped the border a week ago, hitchhiking to New York city. On Sept. 17 he allegedly stole a 1955 Buick sedan with Florida plates. He was chased by Newburgh and Highland state police but eluded them, continuing from Washingtonville down Route 17 across some new road construction and abandoning the car in a field.

Troopers said he hitchhiked back to New York city where he stole a second car, a 1954 Chevrolet sedan and drove all night, crossing the Canadian border Wednesday morning by a back road where he was pursued by Royal Canadian Mounted Police and trapped. He reportedly drove the car into the river.

Wanted in Canada

Canadian police authorities have charged Desormeaux with possession of a stolen car from another country. Maximum sentence on the charge is 10 years. The youth is also wanted for larceny in the Montreal area.

He will be turned over to Quebec provincial police at Valley Field.

Desormeaux has admitted side-swiping a state police car near Newburgh, it was reported.

Briefly Told

London, Sept. 21 (AP)—Paul Miller, executive vice president of the Gannett newspapers, made "a friendly call" on Prime Minister Eden at No. 10 Downing street last night.

Miller is here on a study of the Suez crisis. He expects to go to Cairo over the weekend, returning to Rochester, N. Y., around Sept. 29.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—The State Social Welfare Dept. has announced the appointment of Ernest H. Tilford of Industry, Monroe county, as director of the State Training School for Boys annex at New Hampton, in Orange county.

The appointment to the $7,600-a-year job is effective Oct. 1, the department said yesterday.

Tilford has been serving as director of social service at the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry.

The New Hampton annex was recently established as a security unit to receive boys from the Industry institution and from the State Training School for Boys at Warwick.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has designated Sunday, Sept. 23, "Interfaith Day" in New York state.

In a proclamation issued yesterday, Harriman said the interfaith religious movement, founded 18 years ago, was "a reflection of the highest aspirations of mankind."

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—The newest member of Gov. Harriman's advisory council on the uses of nuclear material is Public Service Commissioner Richard H. Balch.

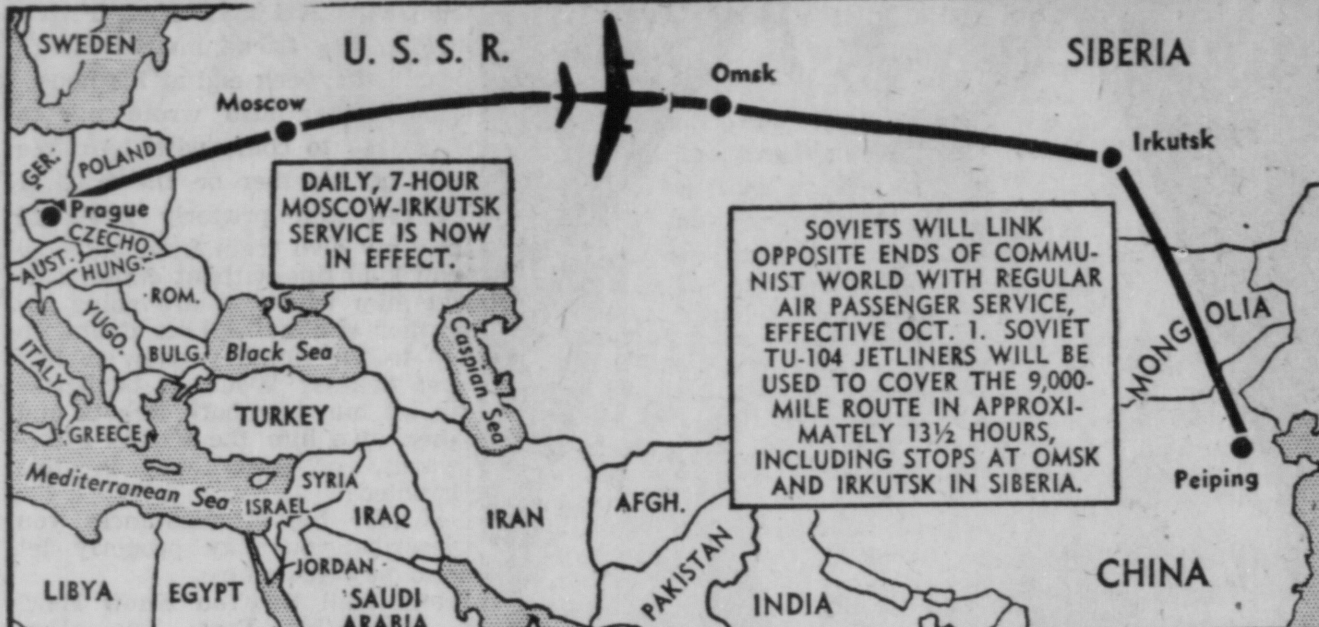

Balch, former Democratic state chairman, was appointed by the governor yesterday.

He is the fourth member of the council. The other members are Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson, chairman, Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin and Health Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe.

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—A special stockholder's meeting has been called for Oct. 4 by General Aniline & Film Corp. to vote on reclassification of its stock in a move to clear itself of government control.

General Aniline was seized by the U. S. attorney general's office from Interhandel, a Swiss concern, during World War II as being German controlled. The corporation reports in a proxy statement that it has been advised that the government is considering sale of certain of its vested shares, if the proposed reorganization of its stock goes through.

Sleepy Sea Lion

Seattle (AP)—Postmaster George Morry was a surprised landlubber when he spotted a sea lion dozing atop the canvas cover to his small motorboat near the Morry home on a Puget Sound island. When Morry's 13-year-old son rowed out to scare the critter away, the critter scared the boy away first. Then a neighbor dispatched the sea lion with a rifle shot and qualified for a $13 bounty. "It weighed 200 pounds," said Morry. "I know. I had to dump it out of the boat to get rid of it."

Young Adult Clubs Aid in Open House Festivities at YW

On Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 8 p. m., the Young Adult Clubs of the YWCA, located at the corner of Clinton avenue and Maiden Lane, will be present to greet anyone who wishes to visit the Y to learn more about its activities, join clubs or sign up for available classes.

At the YWCA in Kingston, girls and women yearly find many opportunities to meet new friends, develop skills, and learn to be of service to their community.

During Open House Week, Sept. 24-28, everyone is invited to learn about interest groups which will begin this fall. There will be classes in knitting, photography, bridge, and hat making. The fee is nominal, within the reach of everyone.

The YWCA is a member agency of the Community Chest.

Mendelssohn Club Plans Banquet

The annual banquet of the Mendelssohn Club will be held Monday, Sept. 24, 7 p. m. at Spindler's Resort Maple Hill.

Honored guest will be the club's new accompanist, Mrs. William Rylance and conductor, Joel Dolven.

All active and associate members are cordially invited to attend. Others interested in joining and singing with Mendelssohn Club are invited also.

Sorosis Holds Meeting

Sorosis held its first fall meeting Monday, Sept. 17, at the home of Mrs. Boyd Williams.

During the business meeting, Mrs. A. Noble Graham gave a paper entitled, "Personalities."

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Graham pouring.

The next meeting of Sorosis will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred J. K. Ertel in Stone Ridge Monday, Oct. 1.

P-TA Council Will Resume on Monday

The opening session of the Parent-Teachers Council will be held Monday, Sept. 24, at 8 p. m. at Kingston High School Library. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, president, announced today.

Panel leaders for the discussion period will be various educators and parents.

Monday's topic will be "Interpreting Schools to the Parents" and the various methods of evaluating children's work at school. The topic will be paraphrased as follows: The Parent Teachers' conferences, various types of report cards and parent's letters.

Panel leaders include the following:

William Reardon, principal of Schools 6 and 8 who will talk from the elementary level. Principal Reardon also will act as moderator.

Stephen Hyatt, principal of Myron J. Michael School, will speak on marking at the junior high school level.

Watson Bailey, vice-principal of Kingston High School, will speak of marking on the senior high school level.

Representing the parents will be Mrs. Marion Baxter of School 4 and William Hilton of School 7 who will stress the point of view of parents on the marking system.

The P-TA Council was formed Feb. 27, 1956, under the guidance of Superintendent of Schools Earl Soper for the exchange of information among board members, superintendent and school principals and to keep lay members informed on various topics.

Thus far panel discussions have included building needs in regards to Kingston schools, official P-TA organization, consolidation as affecting outlying districts and mental health facilities and needs for Ulster county.

Working as officers with Mrs. Gilkey, president, are Gerald Shampo, vice-president and Mrs. Howard W. Irvis, secretary-treasurer.

Democratic Women To Meet Tuesday

The regular meeting of the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 25 at the Governor Clinton Hotel at 8 p. m.

William A. Kelly, former county judge and clerk of the Ulster County Board of Elections, will speak on election laws. All county and city election inspectors are requested to attend as guests of the club.

It is also announced that the picnic which was postponed on Sunday, Sept. 16, will be held this Sunday, Sept. 23. All members are requested to send their food donations.

American industry consumed an estimated 5,450 long tons of tin in April for the largest total since January of 1951.

MRS. DONALD WRIGHT (Pennington photo)

Shirley Craig-Donald Wright Nuptials Announced; Couple Plan Home in Tillson

On Sunday, Sept. 16 at 2 p. m. in the Tillson Reformed Church, Miss Shirley Mae Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Craig of Tillson and Donald Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wright of Tillson, exchanged marriage vows.

The Rev. Benjamin Scholten officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Leslie Barringer of Tillson was at the organ and Leslie Barringer sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

For the occasion, the church was decorated with white gladioli and palms.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of rose pointe lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves tapered to a point at the wrist, an illusion yoke with a tiny rolled collar and her bouffant skirt of tulle and lace terminated in a circular chapel length train. A princess crown of tulle leaves, encircled with a band of tiny orange blossoms secured the fingertip French illusion veil. The bride carried a waterfall cascade of white roses and delphinium.

Mrs. Robert Wright of Tillson, cousin of the bride and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, who was the matron of honor, wore a blue floor length gown designed with a strapless bodice of lace with a tiny jacket of net and lace trim and a full skirt of marquisette over taffeta. She also wore a matching hat of woven nylon and carried a nosegay of pink pompons with matching bow.

Bridesmaids were Marilyn Wright and Mary Lou Urlacher of Tillson whose gowns were similar in styling to the honor attendant. Mrs. Wright wore an orchid colored gown and carried a nosegay of yellow pompons with matching bow while Miss Urlacher wore a yellow gown and carried a nosegay of orchid pompons with matching bow.

Flower girl was Miss Sharon Wright, niece of the bridegroom. She wore a floor length gown of nylon over taffeta with a hoop skirt and shirred bodice. She carried a basket of pink, yellow and blue pompons with matching bow.

Robert Wright of Tillson was the best man for his brother. Ushers included Roy Wright and Albert Wright, brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the Sunrise Hillcrest Lodge in Rosendale for approximately 75 guests.

Mrs. Wright is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1953 and is employed as a secretary by IBM in Kingston.

Her husband, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed by the National Ulster County Bank in Kingston.

SHOULD HE PAY HER FARE

"My boy friend invited me to spend the week end at his house. His mother also wrote me to urge me to come with him. We will go together on the train. I believe that properly I should pay my own train fare, but how can I do this without embarrassing him when we are going together and he will no doubt go up to the ticket window to buy the tickets? Would it be better to let him buy both tickets and then give him the money afterwards, or just how is this handled?"

Under the circumstances you describe you may properly let him pay your fare.

How Well Do You Know Her?

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I, along with several other friends, was invited to another friend's house to play cards. After we finish playing the hostess usually serves coffee and cake. As it was getting close to midnight and the next day happened to be a fast day, I mentioned it to the hostess and suggested we have refreshments before 12 o'clock and finish the game afterwards. One of the girls hinted later that I was out of order to make such a request. I would very much like to know if I was wrong.

Answer: Taking it for granted you knew the hostess very well, it was quite all right.

Who Is Calling?

Dear Mrs. Post: Last evening I answered the telephone and the call was for my sister who happened to be out. I asked, "Who is calling?" The person at the other end said, "I'll call again."

and refused to leave her name. I thought her reply very rude and in my opinion was the same as saying, "none of your business." Isn't it bad manners not to leave your name when asked, "Who is calling?"

Answer: Not necessarily. The name might have meant nothing to your sister.

How are godparents chosen? What is their duty? These and other questions are answered in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-36, "The New Baby." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Jacqueline Singer and George Beesmer Exchange Vows; Leave for Niagara Falls

MRS. GEORGE HENRY BEESMER

Miss Jacqueliné Rose Singer of 98 Grand street became the bride of George Henry Beesmer, son of Mrs. Naomi Beesmer of Stony Hollow and the late Henry Beesmer, Sunday, Sept. 16, at 1:30 p. m. at West Hurley Methodist Church.

Mrs. Claudia Williams was at the organ and Mrs. Albert Nussbaum sang "O, Perfect Love," and "O, Promise Me."

The bride was given in marriage by Edward Decker of 50 Stephan street. She wore a Chantilly lace gown styled with a molded bodice, long tapered sleeves and a bouffant skirt, paneled in lace and tulle over a long train, which terminated in a long train. Her three quarter length French illusion veil was gathered to a bridal cap of rose pointed lace.

The bride carried a white bible with a white orchid.

Miss Marion Beesmer, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. She wore a gold rayon chiffon gown with fitted bodice and bouffant full length skirt.

Miss Beesmer carried a nosegay of orchid gladioli, carnations and baby's breath with orchid ribbon.

Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Dolores Beesmer, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Betty Ann Beesmer, sister-in-law.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Methodist Church Notes

New Paltz, Sept. 21—The Sacrament of Baptism will be administered Sunday at the regular 11 o'clock morning worship service in New Paltz Methodist Church, Main and Grove streets. The Rev. Willett R. Porter Jr., minister, will officiate at the service and bring the message of the morning. Robert Brearey will conduct the senior choir in a special anthem, which will be accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Trautwein, at organ.

The service will be followed by a coffee and fellowship hour in the church social hall. Everyone is invited.

The traditional black-diamond supper of New Paltz Methodist Church is scheduled for Thursday evening, Oct. 18 in the social hall of the church. The proceeds from the affair used to buy the coal to heat the church and now helps to heat the church with the present-day fuel. It will be a Swiss steak supper with all the trimmings. Tickets may be procured at Doug's Auto Service or Margie's Dress Shop.

A rummage sale sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society of Lloyd Methodist Church will be held Saturday in Highland American Legion Hall from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Tickets are now available for the harvest home style turkey supper and fair to be held in the hall of Lloyd Methodist Church, on the New Paltz-Highland road Saturday, Oct. 6. Turkey will be served at 5:15 and again at 6:30. This will be accompanied by entertainment, music, display and sale of produce.

Sunday, Sept. 30 is the date set for the observance of church school rally day in New Paltz Methodist Church. On this day Sunday church school sessions will be suspended, and everyone will join in the 11 o'clock rally day service. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Alvin Beatty, superintendent and her staff.

Due to the crowded situation in the beginners department of the Methodist Sunday church school, and with the thought that a separate session of nursery and kindergarten at 11 a. m. would enable some parents to more easily attend the morning worship service, this addition is announced. The first session of this 11 o'clock nursery-kindergarten will begin Sunday under the direction of Mrs. Robert Holmes and assistants. Children are welcomed through 5 years. This additional session will be a regular part of New Paltz Methodist Church school.

Two of the choirs in churches in the New Paltz Methodist Parish announce rehearsals. Senior choir of New Paltz Church will be rehearsing this year Thursday at 7:45 p. m. and on Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Robert Brearey is the director. The choir of Plutarch Church will be meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. George Traver. Mrs. E. C. Trautwein and George Meyer are the organizers. New members are always welcomed.

P-TA, School 3 To Meet Tuesday

The September meeting of the P-TA of School 3, will be held at the school Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. The program will include the installation of new officers by a representative from the Mid-Hudson District of P-TA and a talk and movie on Girl Scouting by Mrs. Kenneth Martin, council adviser for the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts.

The business meeting will be followed by refreshments and a social hour.

Saugerties P-TA Dinner Welcomes Faculty Members

A gathering of approximately 200 persons attended the Saugerties Parent Teacher Association banquet Wednesday night at the Flamingo Restaurant to welcome new members of the Saugerties Central School faculty.

Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent, introduced the new teachers who were welcomed by William Ziegler, president of the board of education and Frederick Sandner, president of the association, who made the welcoming address.

Toastmaster was George Mahony, vice president of the association.

The musical portion of the program was provided by Mrs. Roland Tonnesen, pianist; Mrs. Herman K. Knaust, vocal soloist and Miss Mildred Brady, violinist.

Arrangements for the banquet were made by a committee including Mrs. William Jacobs, Mrs. Richard Overbaugh and Robert Shapiro.

The 1956 national price support level for wheat is $2 a bushel.

Community Chorus Rehearsals Start Sunday, Sept. 30

The Catskill-Hudson Community Chorus will commence rehearsals for its 1956 Christmas concerts Sunday, Sept. 30 at 8:30 p. m. in the Hudson Reformed Church, Warren street, Hudson.

Under the direction of Roland E. Heermance, this chorus will meet every Sunday evening, alternating between the Hudson Reformed Church and the Catskill Reformed Church. Its program of Christmas songs and carols will be presented in early December in the Hudson, Catskill area.

MOTHERS WELCOMED AT ST. URSULA'S — A tea sponsored by the Parents' Association of the Academy of St. Ursula was held Thursday. Among those present were (l-r) Mrs. John Cordts, pouring, Mrs. James Maloney, co-chairman of the event and the Mmes. Michael Pugliese, Francis Fagan and Albert Abdallah, mothers of new St. Ursula students. (Freeman photo)

"God will not look you over for Medals, Degrees or Diplomas, but for Scars!"—Elbert Hubbard.

Mascagni, composer of the famous Cavalleria Rusticana, was leaving the opera house one evening when he heard strains of the Intermezzo from Cavalleria being played at a galloping speed, and arriving on the sidewalk, found an organ grinder at the curb. Mascagni took the handle from the operator and began turning it in the correct tempo. The grinder protested most vehemently until a second person, coming from the opera house, interceded and informed the Italian who was playing the organ.

Mascagni encountered him again the following day. He was playing the Intermezzo again, but in correct tempo. On the side of the organ was a large placard reading: "Pupil of the Illustrious Mascagni."

Cancer Crusade Totals $20,964

Ulster county's contribution to the 1956 cancer crusade was $20,964.73, according to Capt. Andrew S. Hickey (U. S. Navy, retired), publicity director for Ulster County Chapter, American Cancer Society.

He said the amount was 96.5 of the county's quota, which put this area 26th on the state list. Statewide contributions ran $1-209,005.80. In the nation, $27,150,735.07 was collected.

Grateful to Donors
Capt. Hickey said Ulster Chapter was extremely grateful to donors who contributed to the 10th annual cancer crusade.

He stressed that even youngsters came forth to help in the fight against cancer, and reported that four little ones had raised $12 in an enterprise of their own—Judie and Gary Hickey and Barbara and Carol Jackson.

A report from the state division of the ACS said to the innumerable volunteer workers: "Our deepest appreciation for a very magnificent job."

Charles M. Rinschler was Ulster county chairman of the 1956 crusade.

Seven Big Ones With Brooks

Pittsburgh Holds Key To Hot NL Scramble

Ted Kluszewski could be the next big name to go on the baseball trade mart . . . the Cincinnati front office openly unhappy about the big guy's failure to get down to playing weight all season. . . And he's no longer an untouchable since the Rhinelanders started booing him this year. . .

Milwaukee mystery—why does Bob Buhl refuse to pitch to Del Crandall, one of baseball's outstanding catchers? . . .

By far the best rookie in the majors is the Redlegs' Frank Robinson . . . his career as a left fielder doomed. . . Birdie Tebbetts already has him working at third base, his first spot in pro ball . . . or else he'll displace Gus Bell in center, the latter moving to left. . . Only reason switch wasn't made this year was fear of disturbing his distance clouting. . .

Yankee Bill Skowron down to his lowest weight in years, 192 . . . but nothing will cure his batting slumps except to keep both hands on the club in his follow through. . .

Don Ellis, the premier Georgia Tech end who set up the lone, and winning, touchdown in the Sugar Bowl when a Pitt back interfered with his reception of a long pass down near the goal line, became a flanker quite by accident . . . the accident happened when he had four front teeth knocked out in a jarring collision . . . a quarterback then, he had to be shifted—because the snappy Tech attack couldn't function with a lipping 200-pound signal-caller. . .

Still doubt the impact of pro football? The Georgia brochure proudly lists Bulldogs who've played for money—after graduation from college. . .

Lobby interview with Frank Lane: The only trouble with the normal development of Ken Boyer was bringing the kid up to the majors last year. He might better have spent the season in Triple A ball—not that there's anything wrong with his physical equipment. It could have helped him mentally. . . This is the kid who was the All-Star Game sensation. . .

Still the country boy—Vinegar Bend Mizell stopped by Lane, who asks: "Why'n't you come to New York a day early and relax here to face the Dodgers?" . . . Mizell: "Would have if it'da been any place but New York. Can't sit sitting around this place for two days." . .

Most erudite battery in baseball is the Pirates' Dick Hall and Jack Shepard . . . who figure out such problems as how many raindrops fall on the infield when a game is halted. . . They raised arched eyebrows when Umpire Frank Dascoli called a slightly wide pitch a ball the other day . . . when a voice boomed from the opposing dugout: "Go ahead, fellas, tell him how many revolutions the ball took getting up here." . .

The Cincinnati Reds have an automatic $25 fine for the pitcher if any ball goes through the box for a hit . . . when the sun mounts high enough, the proceeds are used to throw a party—for pitchers only. . .

It's a tribute to J. C. Caroline, the former Illini flash, that he could gain job contention with the Chicago Bears as a defensive back . . . because a chronically bad shoulder prevents him from lifting his left arm above shoulder level . . . and means he has to defend against passes with one hand. . .

Rugged Pitt can find only one flaw in the end play of Joe Walton, its top All-America hope: he feels bad when he hits a ball-carrier extra hard . . . seems he used to be a fullback once himself. . .

Between you'n me, one National League pitcher who got up to the majors after several flops because he was certified as a reformed character (no booze) is now unreformed. . .

Maglie-Kline Duel Tonight

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Are the Braves breathin'? Like a man with asthma.

They have to roll a seven to hold any real hope for the National League pennant. And after losing 2-1 to Pittsburgh in 10 innings yesterday, even winning all their seven remaining games won't guarantee a thing for the Braves—who have been able to win as many as three in a row only once in the last two weeks.

Even by winning all seven, Milwaukee can't gain as much as a tie for the pennant unless Brooklyn's world champion Dodgers lose two of their remaining nine. The Brooks, beginning to hear the jingle of another World Series payoff, have won nine of their last 11 and took a full game lead while idle yesterday.

Third place Cincinnati still is mathematically "in" on the fight, but four games out with seven to play.

The Braves' defeat at Pittsburgh had been a sword over their heads since August 30 in Milwaukee. That's when Bob Friend and Bob Buhl battled along to wind up in a 1-1 tie when rain fell with the Pirates at bat in the ninth. It was the Bucs' last visit in Milwaukee this season.

Friend Too Tough

This time the Braves again had to battle from behind against Friend, who gave only four hits but almost missed his 16th victory when two errors on one play by first baseman Dale Long gave Milwaukee the tying run in the ninth. Then Roberto Clemente, an ex-Dodger farmhand, tagged reliever Ray Crone for a two-out single Billy Bruton just couldn't get to in center field and Bill Mazeroski scrambled home with the winner.

The only hits off Friend, winning his first since August 26 and defeating the Braves a third time this season, were fifth and 10th inning singles by Johnny Logan, Hank Aaron's single and Bobby Thomson's double, both in the seventh. Logan's first single came with two out—after Friend had retired the first 14 men in order.

Buhl was in on this one, too. He gave up three hits—one Jack Shepard's seventh home run in the seventh—before being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the ninth.

Going into a four-game series at Pittsburgh tonight, the Dodgers now are 3-1 favorites to win the pennant. It's 8-1 the race won't end in a tie.

Maglie Goes Tonight

It's Sal Maglie (11-4) against Ron Kline (13-16) tonight with Sal seeking his seventh straight success and third in Brooklyn's current surge which has brought the Dodgers to the top from a third place, two-games-behind deficit two weeks ago.

After the four with the Pirates, beaten 9-6 in 15 games so far by the Dodgers, Brooklyn returns to Ebbets Field for two with Philadelphia (8-12 vs. the champs) and a windup three with the Bucs.

Milwaukee, playing just 500 ball in the past two weeks (7-7) sends old reliable Warren Spahn (18-10) against Warren Hacker (3-12) as the Cubs close the Braves' home season with three this weekend. Spahn's the only Milwaukee pitcher to win a complete game since Labor Day. The Braves, 11-8 vs the last place Cubs, play one at Cincinnati Tuesday (they're 12-9 against the Redlegs) then finish the season with three at St. Louis (7-12 vs Milwaukee).

Nuxhall for Reds

Cincinnati, facing elimination if either Brooklyn or Milwaukee wins five more even if the Redlegs win all of their remaining seven, send Joe Nuxhall (12-11) against St. Louis' Wilmer Mizell (14-12) in the first of four tonight. The Redlegs are 9-9 with St. Louis. Cincy is at home to St. Louis and Milwaukee, then finishes at Chicago (6-14 vs. the Reds) next week.

In the American, the pennant-clinching New York Yankees want only a 20th victory for Whitey (19-5) Ford, some more home runs and a batting title for Mickey Mantle and three more runs batted in for Yogi Berra, who then will have 1,000 for his career.

Wiltwyck Plans President's Cup and Seniors Tournament

Wiltwyck Country Club will stage 36-hole President's Cup and Seniors tournaments over the next two weekends, golf chairman, Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., said today.

The President's Cup rounds can be played anytime over the next two weekends, Sept. 22-23 and Sept. 29-30.

A special 18-hole Seniors tournament is planned for members 70 years or older. The others—minimum age 50—will play 36 holes. Both tournaments will be played with handicaps.

Doug Ford Cops Met Open Title

Doug Ford, the 1955 P. G. A. golf champion, set a course record with a scorching 7-under-par 33-33—66 and won the Metropolitan Open with a 288, yesterday at the Inwood Country Club at Inwood, L. I.

Three strokes behind was Mike Turnesa of Knollwood Country Club at Elmsford, who Wednesday set the old record of 67.

Ford, the new pro at the fabulous Putnam Country Club, wrapped up the crown with rounds of 73, 76, 73, 66.

Turnesa, leading the field by four shots at the end of 54 holes, shot a one-over-par 74 on his last round.

Also Sets New Record on 279

Chris Gallo set two seasonal records with 709 (first 700 set of the 1956-57) and 279 in last night's session of the Ferraro Major League.

The slim, fire-balling Rheingold Beer sub-anchor missed a chance at a 300 game when he ran into a 7-pin "tap" after nine straight strikes in the third game.

He opened with 255 and 205 on alleys 7 and 8.

Gallo's brilliant pinning carried Rheingolds to a split decision over Jones Dairy in a high scoring duel. The Brewmeisters won the first and third sets with 1033 and 1079 and finished with 2990 aggregate. The Dairyemen took the middle game, 931-878.

Broskie Raps 653

Runnerup honors went to Harold Broskie of Jones Dairy with a 653 count on games of 214, 204 and 235. Buster Ferraro pegged 247-216—607, Jerry Oster had 246-201—624, Leo Bechtold 215-231—611 for his second "600" blast of the night, Johnny Ferraro 242-212-636, Randy Kelder 225-224—607, Phil Versace 200-226—600.

Tony's Pizzeria forfeited three games to Gov. Clinton Market for using Phil Versace of Poughkeepsie in their lineup. According to Whitey Crispell, the Ferraro Major League prohibits the use of more than two accredited 190-average bowlers on any team. Larry Weishaupt and George Shufeldt already filled the quota for the Pizzeria.

Carlino Belts 583

Tom Carlino belted 212-205—583 for Rheingold. Cashara 215-523, John Ferraro Jr. 236-551, Clifton Quick 222-578, Ken Joseph 203-575, Cliff Davis 517, Vern Van Dusen 531, Harry Smith 214-528, Bill Lawrence 211-543, Joe Ausanio 517, Tim Blyue 203-553, Dick Howard 503, Don Siedler 208-532, B. Morris 200-558, Fred Ferraro 521, John Bailey 203-501, Joe McGrane 512, Charlie Gilder-sleeve 526, Whitey Crispell 564, George Robinson 509, Larry Petersen 548, Larry Weishaupt 560.

Richardson Bows In Coast Tennis

Los Angeles, Sept. 20 (AP)—Gilbert Shea of Los Angeles upset Hamilton Richardson of Westfield, N. J. today in a marathon quarter-final match of the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament, 11-9, 10-12, 6-3, 6-4.

The match lasted 3 hours 15 minutes. Shea relied upon his service, which was functioning brilliantly, to give him his margin over Richardson, who was seeded second and was expected to reach at least the semi-finals.

Ken Rosewall of Australia, the U. S. Nationals winner, scored a straight victory over Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. Larsen made the mistake of trying to overpower the U. S. champion.

In the women's singles, Althea Gibson beat Yola Ramirez of Mexico, 6-1, 6-2. Nancy Chaffee Kiner of Palm Springs, Calif., defeated Mrs. Neil Hopman of Australia, 2-6, 6-0, 6-0.

Train, Plane, Pack Mules, Hoople Gives You Results

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
(Blocker for Ted Coy)

Egad! A hearty hail and halloo to my millions of readers from your peerless prognosticator. And did you come through the "summer" with your woolsens.

Ah, yes, the autumn twinge is in the air and here we are, back again, ready to add sparkle and brilliance to your favorite sports pages with our weekly forecast—har-rumph!

Um-hak! By train, plane and pack mule, your correspondent has been scouting the colleges, peering through knotholes at secret practice, and sneaking into chalk talks disguised as the janitor. We are not leaving it all this year to our valued assistant, Dr. Leslie Zlabotny, the astronomer.

Picks Maroon

My good friend, Bill Burke's Maroons of Kingston High get the jump on the rest of the scholastic field tonight against the fierce warriors of Christian Brothers Academy of Albany. But the mighty line of Kingston will hold like Gibraltar and the Maroon will emerge triumphant. The score? Hak-haf! It's a secret.

Surprises on opening day? Yes, we have a few for you. Texas will upset mighty Southern California in a tense struggle that will be decided in what I call the forward wall. Another upset will be William and Mary over Wake Forest, avenging the defeat of last year.

The Southwest will do very well in the intercollegiate openers. My own personal scouting leads me to select Rice over Alabama, Baylor over California, Texas Christian over Kansas and Texas A&M over Villanova.

The only fly in the Southwest's ointment will be Notre Dame over Southern Methodist in a battle of passes.

But now, on with the forecast. Notre Dame 21, So. Methodist 13.

Texas 13, So. California 0
Tex. A. and M. 34, Villanova 0
Texas Christian 28, Kansas 13

Buddy Young Quits Football

Baltimore, Sept. 20 (AP)—Buddy Young, who survived nine years of professional football although only 5 feet 4 inches and 170 pounds, retired today.

The little Negro halfback will remain with the Baltimore Colts as a talent scout and help with public relations. Young turned to pro football in 1947 after starring for Illinois, playing in the College All Star game.

He played with the New York Yankees in All-American Conference and in 1951 went with Football League to Dallas. The Dallas franchise came to Baltimore in 1953 and Young came along with it.

Berrios-Chestnut

Detroit, Sept. 21 (AP)—Featherweight contenders Miguel Berrios and Ike Chestnut launch Detroit's fall fight season at Olympia Stadium tonight in a nationally televised 10-rounder (NBC, 9 p. m. EST). Berrios ranks sixth, Chestnut ninth, their overall records are: Berrios, 18-6; Chestnut, 22-5-3.

New Paltz Plays Oteora at Stadium

Saturday Game Is Scheduled At 2 O'Clock

New Paltz Central will throw a squad that lacks depth but is high on spirit and a brand new coach against Oteora Central in the 1956 Ulster County Athletic League football opener, Saturday at 2 p. m. at Dietz Stadium.

The new coach is Edward Farrell, who graduated from Rutgers College in June. He succeeds Larry Johnson, who retired to devote his time to the duties of athletic director. Farrell played left end for Rutgers.

35 Players Report

About 35 players reported for the New Paltz football trials, including six lettermen. The team will operate from the single wing.

The principal returnees were Bob Kelly, tailback; Johnny Morgan, quarterback; Tom Roberts, left end; Mervyn Carroll, left tackle; Gordon Harcourt, center; and Pete Cangelosi, right guard.

Best looking prospects from the jayvee team is Floyd Diebold, a 170-pound fullback. The New Paltz line will average around 175 pounds.

The Huguonots have six games scheduled for the 1956 season. The Jayvees will play five.

The schedule:

Varsity
Sept. 22—Oteora at Kingston.
Sept. 29—Pine Plains at home.
Oct. 6—Goshen, away.
Oct. 13—Pawling, away.
Oct. 31—Pine Bush, home, night game.
Nov. 3—Saugerties, home.

Jayvees
Sept. 24—Oteora, home.
Oct. 1—Saugerties, away.
Oct. 15—Newburgh, home.
Dates for road games with Highland Falls and Cardinal Farley will be announced later.

Noble Adios Takes Little Brown Jug

Delaware, Ohio, Sept. 21 (AP)—Two years ago Chicago auto dealer Paul Wixom paid $34,000 for a yearling pacer at the Hempt Farm auction at Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Yesterday the same bay colt, Noble Adios, paid him back $29,492.97 for 4:01 4/5 minutes work as he won the 11th annual $52,666.05 Little Brown Jug classic for three-year-old sidewheelers at the Delaware County Fairgrounds half-mile track before 44,000.

Noble Adios, son of Adios and Helen Win, did it in straight heats just as his full brother, Adios Harry, did two years ago.

Noble Adios added yesterday's stirring win to his victory in the $71,000 William H. Cane Futurity at Yonkers, N. Y., for a two-year return of $93,453.

Favorite Trails

Bachelor Hanover, chestnut colt owned by Hazel Rubin of Charlton, N. Y., and driven by leading driver and money winner Billy Houghton, was an odds-on choice in both heats but finished fourth and fifth as Noble Adios, expertly handled by Johnny Simpson of Orlando, Fla., came home to win in 2:01 and 2:00 4/5.

Adioscot, owned by Walter T. Chandler of Decatur, Ga., took second money of $8,426.56 with a 3-2 finish, and Adiosway, from the S. A. Camp Farms of Shafter, Calif., was third with 2-9 for $5,266.60. Canny Scott, from the Castleton Farms of Lexington, Ky., was third and fourth in the two heats for $5,266.61 and fourth place. Bachelor Hanover ran 4-5 for fifth place and $3,159.98, while Buckeye won sixth place and $1,053.33 for his 5-6 finishes.

In the mutuels, Noble Hanover paid $10.60, $4.60 and $4.20 in the first heat, and $5.80, $4.20 and $3.40 in the second.

Former Winners Out in Amateur

Indianapolis, Sept. 21 (AP)—All former winners, including 1955 champion Pat Lesser, were missing today in the semifinals of the Womens' National Amateur golf championship.

Jo Anne Gunderson, 17-year-old from Seattle, met 34-year-old Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, former professional and four-time Iowa state champion.

Jeanne Quast, 19-year-old University of Washington sophomore, was matched against 22-year-old Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ontario, American intercollegiate and Canadian Open champion and former British titlist.

New Paltz Gun Club Has Opening

New Paltz Rod and Gun Club will stage a field day at its club grounds Sunday, Sept. 23, to celebrate the completion of its new club house. The program starts at 1 p. m.

Several activities are scheduled for the event, including an archery shoot, horseshoe pitching, mosquito trapshoot and 22 calibre target shooting. A turkey shoot is also planned. Contestants may choose to shoot at stationary or flying targets.

Bobby Bragan Promises Same 'Treatment' for the Dodgers

By JACK HAND

Pittsburgh, Sept. 21 (AP)—Bobby Bragan promises his Pittsburgh Pirates will feed Brooklyn some of the same bitter medicine that dropped Milwaukee one full game off the National League pace.

"We're ready to give Brooklyn more of the same," said Bragan after yesterday's exciting 2-1 victory over the Braves in 10 innings. "We ought to beat them at least three out of the seven games."

Ronnie Kline faces Sal Maglie in tonight's Forbes Field opener of a four-game series here. The Pirates will follow with Vern Law against Carl Erskine or Roger Craig Saturday afternoon.

In the Sunday game, which will be watched by a sellout crowd of 35,000 plus on "gift day", Bragan will call on the veteran Red Munger to face Don Newcombe, the Dodgers' 25-game winner. The Pirate pitcher Monday night will be Bob Friend who beat Milwaukee yesterday with a magnificent four-hitter. The Dodgers aren't set for a Monday pitcher.

Pirates Hold Key

The Pirates hold the key to the pennant race as the Dodgers must play them in seven of their remaining games, four at Forbes Field and the final three next weekend in Brooklyn. The Dodgers' other games are with the Phillies Tuesday and Wednesday.

Bragan said he would start Friend in two games against the Dodgers — Monday and next Friday. "If we're tied 1-1 in the ninth I'll have him in the bullpen tonight," Bragan added.

"The Braves just aren't hitting," said Bragan. "But there are too many games to go to do any predicting."

The Dodgers rode the sleeper into town after yesterday's off day. Most of them were resigned to a battle that would carry down to the final weekend.

Before leaving Brooklyn, Newcombe said "I think we should be able to get a pretty good idea how it will come out before we leave Pittsburgh Monday night. If we come home no worse than even in the loss column, we should do it."

Yankees, 7 to 5 Against Dodgers

Broadway odds makers today tabbed the Yankees as 7 to 5 to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers in the coming World Series.

If the Braves triumph in the torrid National League race, the Yankees will be an 8-5 pick.

The odds men rated the Dodgers 1-2 in the National League struggle with the Braves listed an even money.

Dodger Rookie IL's 1956 MVP

Montreal, Sept. 20 (AP)—Fred Kipp, pitching ace for the Montreal Royals, is the International League's Rookie of the Year, it was announced today. Gordon Walker of Toronto, president of the league's Baseball Writers Association, said Kipp got seven votes to edge out Ed Bouchee, of the Miami Marlins, and Gene Green, of the Rochester Red Wings.

Kipp, a 20-game winner this season, towers 6 feet 4 and weighs 180 pounds. He recently was called up by the parent Brooklyn Dodgers.

Induction Oct. 1 For Tamburello

Baltimore, Sept. 21 (AP)—Frank Tamburello, University of Maryland football quarterback, will be inducted into the Army "as scheduled Oct. 1" State Selective Service headquarters announced yesterday.

Tamburello originally was ordered to report Aug. 6. He appealed, and the state board voted Tuesday, 5-0, against him and set a new date of Oct. 1.

Knicks Play 22 Games at Garden

The New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Assn., will play 22 league games, most ever, in Madison Square Garden this season and six at the 69th Regt. Armory.

Thirteen of their Garden appearances will be on NBA doubleheaders, an increase of one over last year. The Knicks showed in the Garden 21 times in 1955-56 before a total attendance of 246,756, highest in their 10-year history, for an 11,750 average.

Of this winter's Garden dates 11 fall on Tuesdays, 10 of which are twin bills; five on Sundays, four on Saturdays and one on a Thursday. Three of the Sunday programs are matinees, all with the champion Philadelphia Warriors. Christmas night, the Knicks engage the St. Louis

Hawks and Philadelphia opposes the Boston Celtics.

Trotters Listed
A special attraction is scheduled for Sunday evening, Dec. 30, involving the Harlem Globetrotters. The Knicks' foe will be the Rochester Royals.

New York inaugurates its home league campaign Saturday, Oct. 27, against the Boston Celtics. In the opener, for an all-eastern division doubleheader, Philadelphia tackles the Syracuse Nationals.

Boston leads in the number of visits, 11, five of which are with the Knicks. Philadelphia comes in 10 times; Syracuse 8, Rochester and St. Louis each 7; Ft. Wayne 6 and Minneapolis 5.

New York's final home game is March 10 against Philadelphia. The Garden dribblers open training at Upsala College, East Orange, N. J., next Monday under Vince Boryla, who succeeded Joe Lapchick last February.

Oriole Rookie Reported Missing In Private Plane

Baltimore, Sept. 21 (AP)—Air-sea rescue units today joined an extensive search for Tommy Gastall, Baltimore Oriole bonus catcher, who radioed he was in distress on a solo airplane flight.

The 23-year-old former Boston University three-sport star was last heard from at 6:21 p. m. (EDT) last night. He had taken off alone from Harbor Field in his own plane about 90 minutes before with fuel enough for five hours flying.

In a radio contact with the field's control tower he got across that he was in serious trouble.

"The static and interference from other speakers was bad," tower operator James J. Wellner said, "but I thought I heard the word 'fire' and he said 'I'm going into the water.'"

Saw Oil Slick
Wellner said he immediately scanned surrounding waters and put in a call for the Coast Guard. "I assumed the plane was near the field when he radioed but I saw nothing," Wellner added.

No one reported seeing a plane go down in the relatively congested area where the river and Baltimore harbor meet Chesapeake Bay. But one search plane pilot reported an oil slick on the Patapsco River, about 10 miles south of Harbor Field. Rough water made definite identification difficult.

Gastall, a native of Fall River, Mass., was one of the most sought after college athletes when he signed with the Baltimore Orioles June 20, 1955, reportedly for a bonus of $40,000.

College Grid In 1956 Debut

By The Associated Press
Whether the nerve-numbing National League pennant race needs — or wants — company, college football bounces into the sports scene tomorrow (Saturday) with its first major program of the new season.

It's a schedule packed with enough important pairings to do credit to a late fall Saturday when baseball is in its hot stove stage and 14 of the 16 major league clubs are "waiting for next year." Actually the busy weekend gets underway tonight with Utah at UCLA.

No less than six teams listed among the top 10 in pre-season estimates will be in action among them Notre Dame and Georgia Tech, number 3 and 4, respectively, in the Associated Press' poll.

Irish Play Mustangs
Notre Dame, with few veterans but a usual number of eager sophomores, meets Southern Methodist in a night game at the cotton bowl in Dallas. Georgia Tech's experienced squad plays an afternoon game against Kentucky at Lexington in the television game of the day. (NBC, 2:30 p. m., EST).

Others of the anticipated elite making their season's debuts will be sixth-ranked Maryland against Syracuse at College Park, Md.; Texas Christian, No. 7, against Kansas at Lawrence, Kan.; Paul Bryant's ninth-ranked Texas Aggies entertaining Villanova at College Station, and Pittsburgh, No. 10 and rated tops in the east, against West Virginia, a coal country rival the Panthers spilled from bowl consideration late in the 1955 season.

SPORTSMAN'S DIGEST

BRILLIANT COLOR FOR SAFE HUNTING

SOME STATES AND PROVINCES REQUIRE HUNTERS TO WEAR CLOTHING SO THEY CAN'T BE MISTAKEN FOR GAME BY CARELESS SHOOTERS. BUT BEWARE OF DARK, DULL REDS; SOME LOOK BROWN IN POOR LIGHTING CONDITIONS. NEW BRILLIANT REDS ARE IDEAL. IF RED ISN'T THE LAW, DON'T WEAR TAN, BROWN, OR GRAY UNLESS YOU SEW ON PLENTY OF RED CLOTH. BEST: WEAR RED CAP, COAT OR SHIRT. IF YOU PREFER A HAT, PIN RED CLOTH AROUND IT. BLUE OR GREEN PANTS ARE SAFER THAN BROWN, TAN, OR GRAY. PIN RED AROUND PANTS IF YOU CARRY ONE. USE RED HANDKERCHIEF, ALSO.

Leo Bechtold sandwiched a 197 with slams of 217 and 233 for 647 high series in last night's session of the Sportsmen's Major.

Mabel Chapman's 532 in the Pioneer Women's League was the best distaff series of the night. She compiled it with games of 189, 166 and 177.

Eddie Auclair was runnerup in the Sportsmen's Major with 569. Ernie Bartroff rolled 508, Ralph Wilson 523, Jack O'Rourke 511, Nick Savino 219-547, George Magley 524, Chris Robinson 207-505, Joe McGrane 521, Sheldon Levy 526, Ferrell McElrath 531. Bob Felton clipped 528, Joe Lucas 502, Clarence Herdman 556, Joe Coughlin 205-518, Ed Smedes 201-519, Harry Secreto 561, Joe Spadafora 228-510, Joe Mahar 520.

Team results:
United Pharmacy 1, Vogel's Dairy 2; Circle Bar 2, Reynolds Plumbing 1; Madden's TV 1, Williams Lake Hotel 2; Stony Hilltop Inn 3, Colonial Cleaners 0.

Mary Mills Leads
Mary Mills was No. 1 shooter in the Central Rec women's loop with games of 174, 171, 141 for 486.

Elinor Burberg posted 451, Marge Delemater 443, Mildred Buddington 427, Genevieve Whitmore 467, Rosemary Spada 402, Edna Korth 427, Mildred Mackey 438, Alicia Wrinn 414, Marge Hornbeck 413, Marcia Olbert 409, Evelyn Francis 420, Nell Glennon 401, Marcia Clark 444, Trude Reis 400, Jesse Burdett 444, Mary Kennelly 468, Rita Amarello 458, Marge Logan 443, Phyl Gehring 423, Janet Hines 444, Edna Peterson 401, Rose Rhymen 456.

Team results:
Stone Ridge 0, Madden's Television 3; Marcrest Lamps 1, Singer's Dept. Store 2; Team No. 7 (2), Team No. 3 (1); G. I. Joe's Express 1, Minasian's Market 2.

Adeline Ferraro's 455, with 154, 149, 152 was the second best pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League.
Sadie Bock fired 418 and Carol Marks 447.

Team results:
Carnright's 3, Alpine 0; DeLuca's Cleaners 2, Cedar Rest 1; Wolf's 1, Kelders 2.

Best series in the Telco League was F. Schultz's 499. George Heddy's 208 topped the singles department.

Stine Raps 542
Don Stine set the pace for IBM Seneca trundlers with a 542 series on lines of 222, 140 and 180.

O'Connor Wins British Masters

Prestwick, Scotland, Sept. 20 (AP)—Christy O'Connor, British Ryder Cup okayer, toured the 6,571-yard Prestwick course today in a record-equaling final round of 67 to win the British Masters golf tournament by one stroke.

O'Connor had a four round aggregate of 71-67-72-67—277. He defeated Eric Brown of Scotland, another Ryder Cup player. O'Connor and Brown set the course record of 67 in yesterday's play.

Rural Citizens To Boom Ike

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—The "Rural Citizens for Ike" organization that worked for President Eisenhower's election in 1952 is coming out of mothballs for this year's election campaign.

Harold L. Creal of Cortland, who headed the group in 1952 and a similar organization that worked for Sen. Irving Ives in 1954, said the "Rural Citizens" would be re-organized at a meeting Tuesday in Syracuse.

Chevrolet to Start Making New Models on October 1st

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Detroit, Sept. 21 (AP)—Chevrolet Motors Division, the world's biggest car and truck builder, expects another big year in 1957; its new models going on the assembly lines on Oct. 1 will be lower and longer and will have new styling and major engineering advances.

Edward N. Cole, general manager, made these disclosures at a press preview of some hand-tooled 1957 models today. The preview, for press, radio, television and trade paper representatives, was held at the General Motors Technical Center, north of Detroit.

It followed by one day the 1957 model preview of Ford Motor Co.'s Ford cars. The Ford cars will reach the market on Oct. 3; Chevrolet will take its 1957 lines to the public about two weeks later.

Big Year Anticipated
Cole told newsmen he believed 1957 should bring the industry a total market of 6½ million cars and nearly one million trucks. Chevrolet, he added, believes it will be "on the threshold of another two million unit year" in 1957.

Implying Chevrolet expects to advance prices, W. N. Fish, general sales manager, said he did not think higher prices will have any appreciable effect on total sales. Higher prices, he said, will not affect the car market any more than the general price increases will curtail sales of other commodities.

(Ford yesterday said wholesale prices will be increased on its 1957 models an average of 2.9 per cent, or approximately $53 per unit.)

Chevrolet gave no percentage or dollar averages concerning its price plans for 1957.

460 Combinations
Cole said that in Chevrolet's 1957 line customers will be able to choose from 460 combinations of exterior color and body designs.

The Chevrolet general manager also said his company during the next year will maintain an employment level comparable with that of 1956 in its 32 plants in 21 cities throughout the United States.

The 86,000 labor force expected to be employed by mid-October, Cole said, will be the highest employment peaks achieved by Chevrolet since the first week in May, 1956. All indications are, he added, that it will remain at a high level in the "foreseeable future."

Cole said Chevrolet had expansion projects currently under way or in the planning stage that will add 4½ million square feet of space at Chevrolet warehouses and manufacturing and assembly plants around the nation.

The company's general sales manager said Chevrolet's final sales figures for 1956 should total 1,880,000 vehicles, including 1,570,000 passenger cars.

New car registrations for the first seven months of 1956—the most recent complete tabulation—gave Chevrolet 946,837 deliveries. Ford, in the industry's No. 2 spot, registered 791,865 in the same period.

Feed Grain Report

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today the expected total feed grain supply for 1956-57 is about equal to the record supply of last year. This is nearly 16 per cent above average. Production of oats, barley and sorghum grain is expected to be about a fifth smaller than the big output of last year. But the corn crop is up nearly 100 million bushels and is second only to the bumper crop of 1948. The department said the 1956 feed grain production appears sufficient to meet the 1956-57 requirements and leave a larger carry-over into the 1957-58 than the record stocks of this year.

Summer Nears End Chilly Autumn Already Covers Much of East

(By The Associated Press)
Today was the last full day of the summer season and chilly autumn weather already moved in over most of the eastern half of the nation.

Frosty air extended from the lower Great Lakes region and lower Mississippi Valley eastward to the Atlantic coast. The summer season ends officially at 8:36 p. m. EST tomorrow.

Virginia Has 30s
Temperatures were in the 30s from Virginia and North Carolina northward with some places reporting readings below freezing. In the southeast, however, they were in the 50s and low 60s and in Florida, where the cold air had not reached, most temperatures were in the mid-70s.

An increasing flow of southerly air brought a little warming to the central third of the country from northern Texas northward through the upper Great Lakes region and northern plains. Temperatures were in the 40s and 50s and edged into the upper 70s in the southern plains.

Mostly fair weather was reported east of the Rockies to the eastern seaboard.

Only light precipitation occurred in the west. Showers fell in the northern Rockies and in the Great Basin area. Scattered showers also were reported in the cool air over the Pacific Northwest.

The cooler Pacific air moved as far east as the Rockies early today. Temperatures in the interior regions of the far west dropped into the 50s compared to yesterday's marks of the 60s and 70s.

New England Hit By Cold Front

Boston, Sept. 21 (AP)—Record-breaking low temperatures were reported in several New England areas today, the last day of summer, with new lows for the current season common, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported.

On Mt. Mansfield, at Stowe, Vt., nearly an inch of snow fell as the temperature dipped to about 26 degrees. In Burlington, Vt., the earliest snow flurries ever recorded left traces of snow. Low temperature there was 35. The weather bureau said snow has fallen only five times in Burlington in the month of September.

41 in Boston
Boston's low of 41 degrees was one degree above the record low for this date, recorded in 1929. Providence, R. I., reported 34.9 degrees—a new record low for this early in the season. Two days ago the previous record, 36.7, was set. The previous record low for this date in Providence had been 39.3, set in 1929.

In Concord, N. H., a record low of 29 degrees eclipsed the old mark of 31 for this date, also recorded in 1929. Portland, Me., had a 30-degree low, three degrees below the previous minimum for Sept. 21 set in 1947.

Denies Plot on Parents
Hackensack, N. J., Sept. 21 (AP)—Miss Dorothy Long spent five hours in the witness chair yesterday denying state charges that she plotted to murder her parents for their estate. The 29-year-old insurance clerk also denied that she had had sexual relations with her stepfather since she was 17 and with the two young men indicted in the murder conspiracy with her. At the end of the day, her parents, Prof. and Mrs. Leland Thurlow posted $15,000 bail for her and she was free to go home for the weekend. The trial will be resumed Monday.

Sees $44 Billion
Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—The board chairman of National Gypsum Co. predicts that construction will reach a record $44 billion this year, even though home building has been falling off.

Race Against Death Won by Patrolmen

Bakerfield, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—Highway patrolmen won a dramatic race against death last night, speeding 76 miles with an iron lung for a critically ill polio patient.

Red lights and screaming sirens marked the route of the mercy dash from Kern County General Hospital here to Exeter Memorial Hospital in neighboring Tulare county.

A hospital official in Exeter telephoned the highway patrol for help, reporting that the patient could live only 2½ hours without a respirator.

Less than two hours from the time of the call Officer Joe Ducato, escorted by two highway patrol cars, streaked into the hospital grounds with the 500-pound respirator in his pickup truck.

The hospital refused to give the name of the patient but said she is the 26-year-old wife of a Porterville, Calif., minister.

Democrats Like To Boast: Hall

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall last night belittled claims by Democrats that their party's votes in Congress put over much of President Eisenhower's program.

Speaking at a forum at the National Republican Club, Hall said:

"Democrat propagandists like to boast that members of their party are responsible for putting over much of President Eisenhower's forward-looking Republican program.

"Their reasoning behind this is very obvious. They find it difficult to criticize the President or his program. So they are forced to claim credit for the accomplishments of the Republicans."

Hall said proof of congressional support can be shown by "actual results," he added.

"This is the major difference between the two parties today. The Democrats like to boast about the things they will do for the people. The Republicans get it done. It's a difference between political talk and concrete achievement."

Chef Held in Jail

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—A chef was held in $1,000 bail yesterday by Magistrate Joseph A. Martinis in Bronx Magistrate's Court when the man's former wife accused him of burglary. The defendant, Thomas Casale, 47, of 155 Manorhaven avenue, Manorhaven, Long Island, was accused by his divorced wife, Brigida, of 723 East 182nd street, the Bronx.

USW Gives President Big Raise

Los Angeles, Sept. 21 (AP)—The United Steelworkers of America have given President David J. McDonald a $10,000 present in the form of a salary raise to $50,000 a year.

The USWA convention, in its stormiest session, also voted yesterday to raise dues $2 a month for the union's 1,200,000 members.

Dues Up $2
Dues were hiked from $3 a month to $5 after an hour and a half of heckling debate in which one spokesman from the floor, Len Taylor of Kokomo, Ind., told

McDonald: "I don't think you need the $10,000."
"I'm not worth it," McDonald snapped tartly. "The last contract proves it."

The irony was not lost on the majority of delegates and the $10,000 increase was overwhelmingly approved. The contract McDonald referred to won the steelworkers an average 46 cents hourly pay boost over three years.

The vote on the dues increase was much closer, with three votes being taken, one by voice, one by raising hands and finally, a standing vote. McDonald rejected a motion for a roll call and declared the measure passed.

Ask Admission

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—A dockworkers' union ousted for racketeering influence on the New York waterfront applied today for entry into the AFL-CIO on grounds it has cleaned its ranks of hoodlums. Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the ousted International Longshoremen's Union (ILA), carried the appeal to AFL-CIO President George Meany (10 a. m. EDT). There appeared to be substantial doubt that Meany, a leader in booting the ILA out of the old AFL three years ago, would be impressed with Bradley's arguments.

Parisians Await Bread

Paris, Sept. 21 (AP)—Thousands of Parisians waited restlessly in long lines today to get their first fresh bread—staple of the French diet—since Wednesday. The government ordered the reopening of some 1,500 strike-closed bakeries—about a third of the total—in the Paris area of five million persons. The orders were backed up by possible penalties of a year in prison and a fine of 1,200,00 franc ($3,428) for noncompliance.
